MR. AND MRS. W. W. MURRAY

Gold Wedding Noted at Open House

~~#8845~~

MR. AND MRS. W. W. MURRAY of 2826 Cade Street celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently with an open house at their home. Five of their six children assisted them in receiving guests, the other son, Corporal Lloyd Murray, being overseas with the United States Army.

The couple were married in Duval, Mo., in 1893, where Mr. Murray was engaged in farming and where Mrs. Murray, then Miss Ella Owings, was a school teacher. In 1919 Mr. and Mrs. Murray and their family became residents of Long Beach.

Their six children are Harold W. Murray of San Pedro, Victor A. Murray of Long Beach, Corporal Murray, somewhere in the Pacific; Paul R. Murray of Los Angeles, Alden M. Murray of Clearwater and Mrs. Sid Percy of Iantha, Mo. They have seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Many gifts were received by the couple and a large number of friends called during the day. An anniversary dinner for 20 guests was given the evening before the anniversary at Knott's Berry place.

JOHN D WALLINGFORD.

I first knew John D Wallingford, while he attended the State University at Bloomington, Indiana, in the late 1880,s. Greenburg, Indiana, furnished quite a high ratio of students attendig the Indiana University. John, often called Jack, was popular as a student. He was a member of Beta fraternity chapter at U.I. I think that he left Indiana at the close of his Junior year.and graduated at Leland Stanford, Palo Alto California in 1890. David Starr Jordan was President of Indiana University while John was in school at Bloomington.

Senator Stanford, selected Dr Jordon to head the Stanford University then opening with a large endowment fund and a good attendance.

John graduated there and came to Des Moines, and for a time was in the office of Nat Guernsey, one of the best attorneys in Iowa, later to be one of the New York attorneys of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. John was then on his own as a practing attorney in Des Moines.

John made friends easily and fast by friendly intercourse with his fellow man. He became one of the Judges in Polk Co, District Court serving for many years.
Later he was appointed to the Federal Bench in the Panama Canal Zone where he served with general satisfaction until his sudden deach on September 20 1924. He left surviving him, his widow, Jean Lucas Wallingford.

He was popular with the attorneys practing before him and his judgments were humane and just.

He lived happily and ~~just~~ easily, being a friend to the unfortunate as well as the fortunate. He acumulated a large store of best wishes while he lived and many regrets at his passing.

The country needs more Jack Wallingfords as evidenced by the general sorrow at his passing.

"The Southern Wallingfords" written by Winthrop Alexander of Wollaston, Mass., gives the following information:

"Nicholas Wallingford came to America in 1638, settled in Newbury, Mass. He was married August 30, 1654 to Sarah Travis (Travers) daughter of Henry and Bridgett Travis.

Nicholas was a Mariner and disappeared in 1681 as shown by a certificate of that year.

Nicholas was captured by Barbary Pirates.

Nicholas and Sarah had 13 children born between 1655 - 1680.

Benjamin the 12th child of Nicholas and Sarah was born June 27, 1638 in Bradford, Mass.

Elizabeth (widow of Benjamin above) made her will in 1741 after Benjamin had died. It was probated the 24th of June following. Elizabeth left her estate to her seven living children and her grandson Benjamin III.

Births and baptismal records of several of the children of Elizabeth and Benjamin are to be found in the record of Queen Ann's Parish which are in the office of the Washington Cathedral.

The Benjamin III mentioned in above will was later found in Culpepper Co., Virginia and migrated to Maysville, Ky."

THE SOUTHERN WALLINGFORDS

By Winthrop Alexander, Wollaston, Mass.

The writer, for several years, through family connection and research, had been quite familiar with the genealogy of the Wallingfords of New England, but did not realize that there were so many of the name in other parts of the United States. Nicholas Wallingford (called also Wallington) came from England to Mass. as a boy in 1638, settling in Newbury. He married, Aug, 30, 1654, Sarah Travis (or Travers), daughter of Henry and Bridget. He was a mariner and disappeared in 1681, as shown by a certificate of that year, his estate being settled a year or two later. Family tradition has it that he was captured by Barbary pirates.

Nicholas and Sarah had thirteen children, as follows: John, Nicholas, John again, Sarah, Mary, James, Hannah, William, Joseph, Elizabeth, Esther, Benjamin and Abigal, born from 1655 to 1680. (Note carefully these names). Nearly all of these children are accounted for except Benjamin, the twelfth child and youngest son, who was born 27 of June, 1678, in Bradford, Mass., and thereafter disappears from the records.
About two years ago the writer, in searching Md. records for other families, found several Wallingfords in Prince George's Co., & further investigation developed others farther south; so he set about to find some facts about them. In the registries of probate and deeds at upper Marlboro, that Co., was found some interesting information:

Col. NinianBeall of Prince George's Co. sold for 39 pounds, 20 June 1708, to Benjamin Wallingford of said Co. planter, 250 acres of land lying eastward of the Eastern Branch of the Potomac River in said Co., called "Wallingford's Purchase."

Benjamin Wallingford died before 1741, as his widow Elizabeth made her will 11, April of that year, and it was probated 24 of June following. In it she mentions her seven children, viz; Nicholas, Benjamin, John, James, Joseph, Elizabeth Dove and Sarah Brashears; also grandson Benjamin. The births or baptisms of several of these children are to be found in the records of old Queen Anne's Parish, which are in the office of the Washington Cathedral. The coincidence of these names with those of the family of Nicholas of Mass. seem to be almost conclusive proof of the identity of Benjamin of Md. as the missing son of Nicholas.

The grandson Benjamin, mentioned in the above will, is probably the man who is found later in Culpeper Co., Va. and whose sons migrated to Maysville, Ky. Undoubtedly others of the Md. family went farther south as all of the name in the southern states cannot be traced to Culpeper Co. Most of the southern members spell the name Wallingsford, and occasionally Wallington is found. There is apparently no other family in America, other than that of Nicholas, from which Benjamin could have descended. The maiden name of Elizabeth, wife of Benjamin of Prince Georg's Co.M was not found, but a clue may exist in the following from Maryland Calendar of Wills, Vol. 7:

Wallingford Family Meets In Lexington To Organize Into A National Society

Flemingsburg, Ky., Thursday, June 26, 1941—A meeting for the purpose of organizing the Wallingsfords and Wallingfords of the United States and Canada into a National society was opened Monday at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington, Ky., with approximately 50 members of the two related families in attendance.

At the morning session, national officers for the new association were elected. Charles H. Murrow, attorney of Des Moines, Iowa, was elected president, and Dr. Charles C. Wallingsford, Hynes, California was named secretary-treasurer. Serving on the nominating committee were Dr. W. H. Wallingford, of Princeton, W. Va., Mrs. Otto R. Shiver, of Springfield, O., and Miss Sara Wallingford Glascock of Flemingsburg, Ky.

Presiding at the meetings was Mrs. Eugene Van Deren (Myra Wallingford), of Cynthiana, Ky., who is chairman for area 5, composed of Kentucky, West Virginia and Tennessee. Acting as secretary pro tem was Miss Hattie Hord, of Flemingsburg, Ky.

Area chairmen for the twelve areas into which the association has divided North America were also elected at the morning meeting. A constitution with by-laws had been drawn up and will be excepted by the members. The constitution provides for national meetings every fourth year, and Area meetings every two years. However, such was the interest manifested that it was decided to make plans for another national gathering to be held next year in a western city.

Luncheon took place in the Thoroughbred room of the Phoenix hotel, with 43 persons present. In the afternoon, members of the families formed a motorcade to visit stock farms of Central Kentucky.

On Tuesday descendants from out of the state joined with those from this section in a tour of Flemingsburg, Mt. Carmel, Mt. Gilead and Maysville.

Fleming county's historic courthouse, planned and built by James Eckels and Samuel Stockwell and completed in the year 1829, provided an appropriate meeting place for Tuesday's get-together. Luncheon was served to about 25 members at the Fleming hotel.

Among those who registered Monday were Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Wallingsford of Hynes, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Otto R. Shivers, of Springfield, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dean Wallingford and daughter, of Peebles O.; Dr. William H. Wallingford, Miss Alice Wallingford and Miss Marvina Wallingford, of Princeton, W. Va.; Miss Dorothy Sowards, of Bellflower, Ill.; Miss Nellie Hord, of Boston, Mass.; Miss Kate Warder, of Jeffersonville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hambrick and daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth, Miss Nancy Wallingford, Mr. George Summers Wallingford, all of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Van Deren and Mrs. Godbey, of Cynthiana, Mr. and Mrs. William Prather, of Fayette county; Mrs. Raymond Lickert, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lathram, Mrs. Elmer Foster, Mrs. Mary Alice Jones, Mrs. Louis Stockton Bowers, Mrs. Louis Eugene Crain, Mrs. Forrest Lee McKee, Mrs. W. T. Crain, Miss Elizabeth O. Wallingford, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Jones, Miss Hattie Hord, Miss Sara W. Glascock, Miss Betty Bower, Miss Lynda Lee McKee, Mr. George Nelson Foxworthy, Mr. Elmer Patterson Foster and Mrs. Robert William (Bobby) Crain, all of Flemingsburg; Mrs. Harry Glascock, Mrs. Belle W. Faris, Mrs. Ella Wallingford, Mrs. Lillie Mae Roberts, Miss Faith Wallingford, Mr. Samuel T. Foxworthy and Mr. Hargis H. Foxworthy, of Fleming county.

Going to Lexington Monday night were Mrs. Miles Hurst, of Huntington, W. Va., and Mrs. Thomas E. Rice, of Fleming county.

Additional members attending Tuesday's session included Mrs. George Wallingsford, Mrs. Bert C. Grigsby, Mrs. Charles E. Rhodes, Miss Caroline Phillips, Miss Pearl Wallingford, Miss Rosanna Rice, Miss Ruth Rice, Miss Ann Stockton Bower, Miss Rosella Wallingford, Judge Harry Wallingford, Mr. William Wallingford, and Mr. Thomas E. Rice of Flemingsburg and Fleming county, and Miss Carol Anne Hurst, of Huntington, W. Va.

It is interesting to note that the Wallingford family name is derived from the town of Wallingford, England, which is located 46 miles southwest of London and is known to have existed more than a thousand years ago.

Nicholas Wallingford I was the first member of the family to touch American soil. As a lad of 19 years, he sailed from Southampton, England, and reached Boston, Mass., on April 24, 1638. Sixteen years later he was married to Sarah Travis of Irish descent, and they were the parents of 13 children.

Their grandson, Benjamin Franklin Wallingford, married Prudence Elliott. They resided for a time in Culpepper county, Virginia, later removing to Limestone (afterwards called Maysville, Mason county, Ky.) on the Ohio river in 1775. They were the parents of 7 children. From these are descended the Kentucky Wallingfords.

The plan of having a family history was conceived by Mr. Murrow more than thirty years ago. Collaborating with him was Judge John D. Wallingsford, of Des Moines, who made several trips to Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana to collect data. However, in August of 1922, Judge Wallingford was appointed to a federal judgeship at Ancon, Canal Zone, South America, and two years later died there suddenly of a heart attack. The work was later continued by Mr. Murrow and Dr. C. C. Wallingsford, and in time they hope to publish a comprehensive Wallingford Family History.

Mrs. Ella Wallingford, of Nepton, mother of Mrs. Harry Wallingford who is judge of Fleming county, had the distinction of being the eldest person present at the meetings this week, and little Ann Stockton Bower, younger daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. Louis Stockton Bower of this city was the youngest member in attendance. —S. The Father of Dr. C. C. Wallingsford, Hynes Physician, Died at the Sawtelle Veterans' Hospital Following an Illness of Six Months, Resulting from a Fracture of the Thigh. The Funeral Was Held at 10 A. M. Friday.

ISAAC WILLIAM WALLINGSFORD the fifth child of Moses Ball Wallingsford and Martha Fowler, his wife, was born near Jackson, in Gibson county, Tennessee, January 21, 1844, and died March 27, 1933.

Being for the Union, his father was forced to remove and went to Knox county, Illinois, in 1863, and William came here when discharged from the service. He participated in many of the engagements west of the Mississippi river from Missouri to New Orleans, La.

At the battle of Hartsville, Mo., January, 1863, he was one of 850 Union soldiers who held 7000 Confederate forces at battle for four hours and then routed them. He was also in the following engagements: Batesville, Ark, Feb. 4, operations against Marmaduke's command, April 17-May 2, expedition against Little Rock, Ark, July 1 to Sept 10, Brownsville, Ark., Sept. 16, Jacksonport, Ark., Nov. 1863 to March, 1864. Expedition to New Orleans, La., and discharged Aug. 8, 1865. The 3rd Missouri voluteer cavalry to which he belonged, lost 4 officers and 209 men, a total of 213 men.

After discharge from the service at New Orleans, William traveled by steamboat up the Mississippi river to St. Louis, and then by rail to the newly made home, 3 miles north of Gilson, Knox county, Illinois. He remained at home on the farm until January 26, 1875, when he was united in marriage to Ann Janette Bloom.

They resided on various rented farms about Gilson until 1897, when they moved near Knoxville, Ill., at which point the wife died. July 25, 1902. One son, Dr. Charles C. Wallingsford, was born to this union.

In March, 1915, he went to Ogallala, Nebr., and moved with his family to Hynes, Calf., in 1926. In Sept., 1932, he had the misfortune to fall and fracture the left thigh and was confined to his bed for a period of six months before his death, due to gangrene of the left foot.

William was not a member of any church, while a believer in Christianity, and his religious beliefs were those of the Golden Rule.

May 27- 1943

Dear Charley:

Your extreme lengthy letter of 4 lines of May 23 at hand this morning and it indicates two things, that you are still among the liveing and have a sever case of writers cramps.

Some months ago a Mrs Lula(Reed) Boss of 480 Second St Maysville Ky, who is a D.A.R and has made research and records for the same, who thinks she is a decendent of the Wallingford- Reed Branch wrote me and I have corresponded with her quite a bit.

She seems very reliable as she goes to the Court Records for most of her facts. and has sent me considerable material.

She sent me so much data and made no charge so I enclosed a $5.bill and she sent me two books- loaned- one pamphlet on the town of Washington Ky and another on the 150th year of Statehood, allso a large typed colume of Court Records. I have copied them, makeing duplicates and under seperate cover am mailing you a copy to put in your Note Book and keep.

On page 6 I think there are some names that will interest you.

Tell me what you think of these records after you have read them.

If you care to gather any records on the Blues and Murrows, I believe she will be very reliable and may now have data assembled, or will dig them out of the court records.

She informs me that there is no record of Nicholas Wallingford, being a High Sheriff.

I think I will make some farther research of the Land Records to see if we can locate the home of Benjamin Franklin Wallingford and his sons and daughters. I believe Bens old home was land on which the Mt Gilead cemetry now stands, and his sons and daughters near there.

I am quite buisy just now, but think I will be able to get the material you are sending, typed up and back to you in time for your Wallingford-Murrow Meeting.

Have a couple of calls to make so will close, I am,

Sincerely Yours,

Charley

Charley.

Suit Filed: Isaac Willet and others)
Vs) In Equity.
Nancy Willet and others)

This was a suit to sell the land of Richard Willett, deceased. He left all his estate to his widow, Nancy Willett for her life. Nancy the widow, joined in the suit as willing for the land to be sold and she to take her one third. From the suit it seems there was some question about the share coming to William Henry Richardson, from whom his father, Dudley A Richardson, was guardian.

It speaks of the one-eight share of each. I would say that this was a friendly suit, a process of law in order to sell the land dureing the life of the widow, Nancy Willett. The suit continued in the court f for some years, but finally the land was sold, which consisted of 110 acres purchased by John Rains.- June 11 1810(Deed Book- L- p 381) This land was situated on Limestone Hill and on the road from Washington to Maysville: allso 80 acres purchased from Timothy Mayhall (Deed Book-N- page 170 and 80 -5/8 acres purchased from Robert Gibson.

Note:- I cannot find the deed of purchase. This Robert Gibson was the father of Lucy Gibson who married James Fairfax Willett, Oct 17- 1821, son of James and Elizabeth Willett.

Richard Willett, left personal estate valued at $2927.72, which it seems from suit Nancy, the widow and mother, had already advanced money to all the children out of this sum.

No farther records here to establish the date of death of Nancy (Willett) Willett, wife of Richard and daughter of of Charles and Martha (Wallingford) Willett. She may have gone to Indiana with some of her children and died there.

Sketches of Washington, Mason Co Ky
By Edna H Best,1936.
Honoring the 150 anniversary of the Establishment of Washington as a town.

Simeon Kenton, a dauntless pioneer, in the month of May 1775 desending the Ohio River for the fifth time, he and his companion landed at the mouth of Limestone Creek,(now Maysville) and pushing into the interior found the most luxuriant cane breaks, far beyond their expectations, which was from 6 to 15 ft high.
They cleared an acre of the cane breaks on Lawerance Creek, near a fine large spring.just 3½ miles from the present sight of Washington. Kenton planted corn which he brought with him and raised the first crop of corn cultivated by whiteman north of the Kentucky River. Simeon Kenton had taken planting pocession of what was to be Mason County.

It was not until 1784, that Kentons Station, was definately established, and he becam a self appointed host to welpcome all pioneers who landed at Limestone. Simeon Kenton knew men, consiquently Mason County received the cream of the pioneers, and later Washington was filled with illustrous men. In 1785 they bought from Simeon Kenton a 700 acre tract of cane land and laid out the town of Washington, which in 1786 was laid out as a town by theVirginia legislature, being one mile square. This little town was destined to play a tremendious part in the early history of the State, and became a distributing point for the mail of the Northwestern Teritory, which later became Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other parts. It was allso the County seat of an emense Mason Co for 50 years, when the count seat was removed to Maysville.

When the first Federal Census of the United States was taken in 1790, there were five towns in Kentucky, Lexington-Pop 843- Washington- pop 462- Louisville- pop 200- Bardstown pop- 216 and Danville pop 150. This was the second town in what is now the State of Kentucky at that time.

Limestone allso became a town in 1787, covering 100 acres, then called Maysville, due to the land being owned by John May and Sineon Canton.
The first stone Courthouse in Kentucky was built in Washington in 1794, 2 years after Kentucky was admited as a State.
The Courthouse was an imposing building 50 ft long, 23 ft wide and 2 stories high. It was built of limestone and the walls were 2 ft thick. Extending across the entire front of the building was a beautiful colonial porch with eight massive stone pillars, and a paved floor. The Clerks offices were at the side and the whipping post in the rear. For 115 years this splendid building endured, and would have stood for centuries to come, if a bolt of lightening had not struck the building Aug 13, 1909 and it was destroyed by fire.
It could have been saved, but the superstitous negroes made no effort only whispering, "There aint no use trying to put lightning fire, it cant be done cepting with milk, and they aint enough milk"

In 1848 the County seat after a bitter fight in the Legislature was moved to Maysville, and thereafter the Courthouse was used for educational purposes.

Washington, in the early days was the largest hemp market in the United States. It is located 3½ miles from Maysville.
One of the most attractive houses in Washington is the Wood home, now owned by Mrs Nellie(Wood) Boggs. The Wood home was buily in 1815 by William Murphy, the 3rd postmaster of the town and related to the Woods.

In the rear of the house is an old fashoned flower garden, which was a fairyland to the children of long ago.

An old map of Washington, drawn in 1794, gives the names of the streets and many of the homes. The first Methodist Church was built on York street and scarcely a block away was the Presbyterian church and an old grave yard.

Not far from the presbyterian Church, organized 140 years ago(1936) is the Forman home, a stone house which is still standing.

The Forman home sent out pioneer missionaries to India.

Forman College in Lahore India, is a tribute to the services of Dr Charles Forman, one of Indias first missionaries.

From 1830 to 1840, Washington was visited intermittently by deadly cholera as epidemics. The death rate was enormous and the town allmost depopulated. Before this visitation Washington was at the height of prosperity, a community of cultured and distinguished people, commercially sucessful with unusual educational facilities. In 1848 the final blow came with the removal of the Countseat to Maysville.

KENTUCKY LAND GRANTS.

The earliest traditions to reach the Atlantic Seaboard concerning Kentucky had to do with the land. The occasional Indian and later the returning hunter brought in stories of the wonderful country beyond the mountains, rich meadows deep in wild cane and broad and forested limestone lands, now widely recognized as the Blue Grass Region of Kentucky. In the heart of this wilderness, trackless, save for the traces of the bison, scouts and surveyors were the first explorers. They blazed the trail for the thousands and tens of thousands of pioneers and homesteaders, who were to ~~fa~~ follow shortly in the greatest and most significant single migration America has ever known.

LAND EXPLORATION.

Gabriel Arthur, Virginian, the first white man of record to see Kentucky, crossed the eastern part of the State in 1674.
Twenty years later, in 1693, Arnold Viele, in company with the French Voyagers and Indians, came south of the Ohio River and enjoyed perhaps a brief period of residance here. French Traders, relying upon the friendship of some strong Indian tribes, then completely navigated the Ohio and explored adjacent land of Kentucky.
Big Bone Lick was discovered prior to 1729.
It has been said:-

"The Groves were Gods first temples,
where men knelt down,
And offered to the mightiest, solemn thanks and supplications."

The groves and trees were not alone churches. The grand old forest trees were the first historians of Kentucky in the Colonial days, they kept the silent records of the exploring adventurer and of the first surveyor, these monuments of the goodness of the God of nature stood all over Kentucky, ready to perpetuate whatever the patience and ingenuety and thoughtfulness of the early visitors chose to confide in them. In 1750, when Dr Thomas Walker, Col Ambrose Powell, Col Wood, and Col Buchanan, with a company of men entered Kentucky through ~~Cumberlain~~ Cumberland Gap, a beach tree, on Yellow Creek, near Cumberland Mountains preserves the date, A.Powell - 1750.
The trees were ready and faithful historians, and kept the record of the time and place of exploration that otherwise would not have been so truly kept. --- a ring for each year, as the years rolled on: and the record of this tree was complete, and for ninty years told an unvarying story.

Cristopher Gist, in the employ of the Ohio Land Company of England, (which had received from the King, a grant of five hundred thousand acres beyond the Alleghanies)entered the State from the north the following year in search of rich agricultural lands.
From 1761 to 1767, John Swift, an English trader and counterfeiter, was traversing eastern Kentucky from the mouth of the Big Sandy to the Cumberland Gap. As news of the wonderful new lands in the region spread, many others, individually, and in groups like the"Long Hunters", found theirperilous way down the rivers and through the mountain passes into the western lands of the Colony of Virginia.

Following in the footsteps of Findley and Skaggs, Stone,Mansker and Raines, --- Daniel Boone, who had two years previously wintered on the head of the Big Sandy, passed in 1769 through Cumberland Gap to hunt and prospect lands for homestead.
Two years later he returned to the settlement on the Yadkin, the first English scout to explore completely the interior of Kentucky.

In 1773, the McAfee brothers made their way, cautiously, down the Ohio and up the Kentucky River to the open valley site of Frankfort, which they surveyed at about the same time Thomas Bullitt with another party surveyed the area about the Falls of the Ohio, where Louisville, Ky, now stands. John Floyd, another daring surveyor, arrived in 1774 to lay off land for a number of leading Virginians, includeing Patrick Henry. In June of this year, James Herod laid out Herrodstown, now Herrodsburg, the oldest settlement in Kentucky. A year later saw the establishment of Richard Henderson of the Fort of Boonsborough, and the location of Lexington, by a group of independent hunters headed by John Maxwell.
Active settlement had thus begun and the scramble to secure the rich outlying agricultural lands of Kentucky was well under way.

KENTUCKY

The present State of Kentucky was, prior to June 1, 1792 a portion of the County of Fincastle, in the State of Virginia.
In the year 1772, Fincastle Co Va, became the frontier county of Virginia, extending to the Mississippi, it embraced all of what is now the state of Kentucky, and a part of the South-western Virginia. County of Fincastle was dissolved by legislative enactment of the State of Virginia, Dec XX 31- 1776, at which time a portion of it became Kentucky County, Virginia. In May 1780, Kentucky County, was subdivided into three counties- Jefferson, Fayett and Lincoln.
In October, 1784, Jefferson County was divided and the name of Nelson given to the southern part. In 1785 Fayett County was divided, calling the northern part Bourbon County.(Note: 34 counties has been cut from this up to 1885) In the same year Lincoln County was divided and Mercer County and Madison Cos formed. In 1788, Mason Co was formed out of a part of Bourbon County, and Woodford Co out of a part of Fayette County. These nine counties comprised the Commonwealth of Kentucky, when she formerly entered the Sisterhood of States June 1- 1792. Kentucky now has 120 counties.
Kentucky owes most of her remarkable intellectual development, at an early day in her history to the fact that the close of the Revolutionary War in 1781, many of the most intelectual and cultured of the Officers and soldiers in that War came from the State of Virginia, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland, being unsettled in their homes and buisiness by its great duration, privation and calamities, sought new homes in the then richest land in the known world, KENTUCKY. Thus, the times and the country itself, the very life of hardship, self denial, and self dependance, combined to make a race seldom equaled in the world for strength of intellect, and will, physical and moral courage, personal prowness and personal indurance.

LAND RUSH AND LITIGATION.

With literally thousands of rugged people pushing their domestic caravans oved the Wilderness trail to Kentucky, in search of land for homesteads or for speculation, the struggle for possession became intense. The richest and best situated land, topographically, was surveyed and entered upon against and again. While squatters, strong of mind and purpose, frequently held some land without title. Others like Daniel Boone, failed to meet certain legal requirements and though undoubtely rightfully entitled to the land, lost it because of technicalities.

Up to 1775 land in Kentucky had to be surveyed, principally for veterans of the French and Indian War, in accordance with the law of Virginia. At this time Henderson began his broad system of survey in Central Kentucky. He was beset at every turn by Homesteading pioneers who, without survey or purchase title, stubbornly held to the land they had settled upon and improved. To meet this difficult situation, the Colony of Virginia issued a resolution in favor of these pioneers. This was enacted into a law shortly thereafter which declared that all who were possessed of land in Kentucky prior to June, 1776, should be allowed 400 acres of homestead. Henderson protesting in favor of his ambitious land project was removed entirely from the Blue Grass Region and he settled in western Kentucky, south of the Ohio River.

This unfortunate litigation marked the beginning of extensive land allocations in the new territory prior to its actual survey into regular township divisions. Virginia was buisy playing her important part in the Revolutionary War and had neither time nor money to survey accurately her western domain. Her failure to do so brought down upon the State of Kentucky an endless travail of land litigations which saw its zenith in the early part of the Nineteenth Century. Court action concerning these early surveys and grants had presisted down even to the present time, and will probably be continued, intermittently for generations to come.

In 1779, a land law was passed which attempted to smooth out all the difficulties. According to the Virginian Statute, every settler who had occupied a tract of land and had raised a crop before January 1- 1775, was entitled to 400 acres at the price of $2.25 per one hundred acres, and was allowed the further right to pre-empt an additional 1000 acres at $ 40.00 per 100 acres. This was done to provide for the actual needs of the settler as against the non-resident speculator. This law did not apply, however, to the Virginia Military Lands, situated beteen the Green and Cumberlain Rivers, nor the Henderson lands on the lower Ohio River.

The law further required that all future land purchased must be made by means of Land Warrants. These were issued in any number and amount, depending upon the desire of the purchaser. Bounds were required to be plainly blazed upon the selected tract, following which came a detailed survey and possession. Such a loose indefinate method of land allocation resulted in endless confusion and litigations. Many tracts, highly desirable because of their position, were claimed and reclaimed, surveyed and resurveyed, patented and repatented, with much bitter feeling and resentment following, and not always without blood shed.

The year 1780 was marked by a very great number of immigrants seeking not elk, the bison, or wild turkey as previously, but the actual locations of Land Warrants. Indian forays were all but ignored, with the result that many isolated surveying parties were cruely murdered. A formidable expedition of English and Indians under Col Bird actually threatened Kentucky with destruction. Thomas Ruddles and Martins Stations were totally destroyed and their garrisons taken captive-- General George Rodger Clark, calling for volunteers, could get but very few for retalliation until he had assumed extraordinary powers, closed the land office and ordered out the militia. Strange as it may now seem, personal and community dangers appear at this early time as of minor consequences compare to the ~~[illegible]~~ possible loss of the unusual oppertunity to secure these rich Kentucky lands.

To assist in migrating the evil of the day, Virginia established a Court of four land commissoners to examine claims and award title of possession. This Court sat at Harrodstown, Louisville, Bryants Station and Boonesborough. It accompliched much good, but the settlement of the State was so rapid that a few years after it had ceased to function, the general land condition was as bad as ever. One of the notable results, however of the land court lidigation and dissention was the early granting to Kentucky by Virginia of a liberal county government in 1776, and Statehood in 1792.

VIRGINIA LAND GRANTS.

The documentary land ~~grants~~ records of Kentucky fall necessarly into several groups. The earlier of these are known as the, "Virginia Grants". They were issued by the Commonwealth of Virginia based upon warrants given in some cases as consideration for Military Service in the French and Indian Wars, and later in the Revolutionary War. They are dated from 1782 to 1792 and are recorded in 16 books, containing 8, 909 pages. The Virginia Grants total 9,564. The surveys upon which these Grants were issued are recorded in 11 books.The original papers are in file boxes, labeled and indexed.

Some of the most notable men in early Virginia and Kentucky history were interested in these old Virginia Grants. Among them are to be found, Patrick Henry, at that time Govenor of Virginia, John Craig, Daniel Boone, John Williams, Leo May, Thomas and Humphery Marshall, President James Monroe, Govenor Isaac Shelby and others. Included within this group are three tracts granted Pres George Washington, all located however in what is now Ohio. Considerable boundries were set aside for Levi Hollingsworth of Philadelphia Pa, and John Cockey Owings of Baltimore, Maryland.

With the establishment of Statehood in Kentucky in 1792, all Virginia Grants relating to lands west of the Big Sandy River were transfered to this Commonwealth and placed in custody of the Register of the Land Office in the Kentucky State Capitol.

OLD KENTUCKY LAND GRANTS.

Acting under its own souverign authority, Kentucky began the allocation of its lands in 1793 under a plan simular to that of the used by the Mother State, Virginia. The Grants given up to 1856 were recorded in one group of record books which have come to be known as "The Old Kentucky Grants" In this series there are twenty numbered volumes, with the exception of Vol.IX, which appears never to have been numbered into the series. This group of Grants contains 9,034 seperate enteries and include Military, Seminary, Academic, Treasury Warrants and Pre- emption Grants. Manu notable names are to be found in this group, including those of Govenor John Adair, Govenor Christopher Greenup, Judge John Graham, of the Big Sandy Valley, and others. Some of these were based upon Warrants and surveyed by Virginia, prior to the Statehood of Kentucky.
Among the Seminary and Academic Grants are listed manu of the earlier schools in Kentucky, includeing Bullitt County Academy, Estill County Academy, Harland Academy, etc. The boundries granted these Academies, some of which no longer exist, varied from 1000 to 10,000 acres.

GRANTS SOUTH OF THE GREEN RIVER

A group of record~~s~~ entries from 1797 to 1866, know as Grants South of Green River" comprise 29 books and include 15,730 seperate grants. These are known sometimes as "Headright Claims" and were based upon an Act of the Kentucky General Assembly of Dec 21- 1795. Prior to the establishment of Kentucky as a State, Virginia had reserved for her soldiers all the lands in Kentucky south of the Green River. These were encompassed by a line from the head of this stream to the Cumberland Mountains and with these mountains to the Carolina line, thence to the Tennessee River, to the Ohio River to the Green River. Lands thus located under the Virginia law are of Military Origin. Until 1779, no person could enter a survey within this great reservation, except a soldier. When Kentucky as a Souverign State, took charge of her vacant lands, new legislation opened up this great reservation south of the Green River to any person possesed of a family and over 21 years of age. Such persons were entitled to not less than 100 acres, nor more than 200 acres, but but must have been bonafied settles on the land for one year before they came into actual possession.
The survey upon which these grants are based are recorded in 29 books in the Kentucky Land Office.

TELLICO GRANTS.

A small and unique group of Land Grants recorded between 1803 and 1853 embrace the grants issued upon Warrents from the Registrar of the Land Office upon what is known as the "Tellico Claims" These are found in two volumes and have come to be known as "Tellico XXXXXX Grants" They apply to lands ceded to the United States by the Cherokee Indians under the Treaty of 1805. There are 572 granys in the Tellico records, the survey of this system being recorded in a book labeled "Tellico Survey #1" In the back of this book are recorded 1,331 Warrents issued by the Registrar of the Land Office in settlement of Tellico Claims, most of which referance land is in the Big Sandy Valley and Eastern Kentuck

KENTUCKY LAND WARRENTS.

In 1815 the Kentucky State Legislature passed an Act relative to land distrabution, and the records written in fulfillment of this Statute are now known as " Kentucky Land Warrents 1816- 1873" These grants consist of 43 books and 25,621 grants. The Act of the General Assembly governing this group of grants, opened for sale at $20.00 per one hundred acres, all the vacant lands to any one in Kentucky, except an allien, the purchase secureing receipt from the State Treasurer, which was in turn converted into a Land Office Warrent, authorizeing the owner to locate and survey certain acerage. When this had been accomplished and returned to the Land Office it was registered and a Land Patent was issued to the owner, within six months. This law did not, however apply to lands west of the Tennessee River.

GRANTS WEST OF THE TENNESSEE RIVER.

Following the acceptance of the Treaty drawn by Andrew Jackson and Isaac Shelby, with the Chickasaw Indians in 1818 and approved by Congress in 1819, the United States became the possessor of all the lands lying between the Tennessee River and the Mississippi River in what is now both Kentucky and Tennessee.

The Kentucky portion, became known as the "Jackson Purchase" and embr embraces McCracken, Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton, Graves, Marshall and Calloway Counties. These lands were opened up for settle in 1820, the General Assembly, appointing a surveyor to lay off this great boundry line into sections and townships- a very fortunate provision. The records of this group have thus come to be known as "Grants west of the Tennessee River" and are found in 11 volumes from 1822 to 1858. They comprise 8,713 grants.

GRANTS SOUTH OF WALKERS LINE.

A small group of Grants consisting of 8 books, issued from 1825 to 1923 and consists of 4,583 seperate grants, and they are located as their title sugests" South of Walkers Line" and north of the parallel 36 deg 30 minutes, a line which was accurately established in 1819 by Robert Alexander and Luke Mussell, following Legislature appointment. Dr Walker, in running his line for the southern boundry of Kentucky in 1779-80, failed to establish the true parallel of 36 degrees and 30 minutes, his line following variously from six to ten miles north of the true parallel. Since the old Walker Line, had been established as the southern boundry of Kentucky, and covers a considerable distance, it will be seen that the lands indicated in these Grants, were realy in Tennessee. To settle the matter, an agreement was reached in 1820 by the Commissoners selected by the States of Kentucky and Tennessee, in furtherance of which Kentucky was given the right to issue Grants for all the territory lying north of parallel 36 degees and 30 minutes and east of the Tennessee River. The surveys in this system are not recorded, but are found in file boxes in the Land Office.

WARRENTS FOR HEADRIGHTS,

The smallest group of Land Grants consists of those found in one volume dating from 1827 to 1849, marked-("W.F.H.) which has been interpet as Warrents For Headrights.These are only 55. It is possible that they really are a part of some of the earlier groups of Grants, the exact placement of which has been lost dureing the lapse of years or by reason of the many changes which have been made in the Register of the Land Office.
The old Kentucky Grants are minus Vol IX- - posibly this Volumn is the lost 9 or belongs elsewhere as a part of some other group of records.

COUNTY COURT ORDERS.

The most extensive group of Kentucky land records has become known as and include "The County Court Records" These orders consists of 126 volumes, and comprise 69, 356 seperate land grants. This group of Land Grants was created by an Act of the General Assembly and approved Feb 28- 1835. Under the status each County in Kentucky was given all the vacant and unappropriated land within its boundry, lying east and north of the Tennessee River.
This is the most recent group of Land Grants in Kentucky. The surveys to this system are not recorded but are kept in file boxes and are indexed and available for investigation.

In September 1922, issue of the Register, Kentucky Historical Society, carried an article from the pen of Lucien Beckner, entitled"Captain James Herrods Company" In this referance is made to what Mr Beckner calls the "Doomsday Book of the Conquests of Kentucky", a volume in the possession of the Clerk of Fayette County Court.

It is refered to as the "Certificate Book, Virginia Land Commission- 1779-80, and was the offical record kept by the Clerk of the Commission, which heard proof of claims to early settlement and preemption rights by early settlers in Kentucky, and issued Certificates to the claimants that answered in liew of deeds. The existance of this rare old record is considered the most valuable fund of source material concerning the early history of Kentucky Settlers any where obtainable.

The adventurers who dared the wilds of Kentucky in 1775 were not solely intent upon adventure; they came to wrest homes from the wilderness--holding on the land. The most desirable grants were given these settlers who made improvement thereon and settled for a period of twelve months on this improved land. Claims presented to Virginia, offering as a valid title these pre- requisites were known as Settlement or Preemption Claims. In the latter part of 1779- the Commisioners of the District of Kentucky, held court in the wilderness to adjust titles to unpatented lands, and in a record of the proceedings of these courts sessions are found the claims in the county of Mason dursing the years 1775 and 1776.

This book was kept by John May, Clerk of the old Kentucky County, and clerk of the Land Commission sent out by Virginia, in 1779 to hear disputes about western lands and settle them. John Mays book contains a copy of each certificate issued by the Commission for lands in the present limits of Kentucky. It is known as the "Doomsday Book of the Conquest of Kentucky" This book is realy the "Honor Roll" of pioneer settlers for the names recorded herein reads "titles clear" for every one mentioned in it.

There has been found in an old leather bound manuscript which was in the war records room in the office of the Adjutant General of Kentucky, and since placed in the care of the Kentucky Historical Society, a book, called "Military Certificates No 1"- On the fly-leaf is this inscription;- "Certificates of Military Services performed in 1787, under the Laws of Virginia" Signed by George Madiso auditor Public Accounts, Sept-first- 1800.

There were certificates for service under George Rodgers Clark, and Col. Benjamin Logan, in their expeditions against the Indians who harassed the early settlers of Kentucky, in the years immediately following the Revolutionary War. Some of these War services were performed as early as 1780, and therefore well within the Revolutionary period. Therefore, while no doubt a majority of these certificates were issued for services performed dursing Clarks and Logans expedition of 1786 and 1787, it is very evident that a few, at least, were for previous service.

The Certificates were usually for small amounts, indicating that the services had not been of long duration. It was in the majority of instances, against the "Shawnee" or "Wabash" indians, but in some cases the "Southern Indians and the Sheegnamaugas. There is allso a record of Service on the "Frontier" and in the Lincol County and Nelson County Militia.

To the uninitiated, the records of the Kentucky Land Office, presents a maze of interesting, yet exasperating intricacies. In these records a goodly portion of the documentary history of the State is to be found. Much that is interesting and valuable could be gleaned by a careful and systematic pursual of these Land Grants. Following the list of grantees one will have cause to marvel at the xx various methods of spelling employed for one name, this frequently results in finding the same mans name, entered for various grants with his name spelled several different ways.

Investigators bear this in mind. A carful persual of the names found in these grants, indicates, certainly that much less attention was pai by the grantees to the spelling of their own names than to the establishment of the amount of acerage to which they wished to become entitled.

In "Kentucky Land Grants" by Mr W.R.Jillson, the spelling of names, various as they are, must not be ascribed to inaccuracy of transcription: they are rather a proof of accuracy, for all names therein are spelled, in so far as posible, exactly as given in the original records.

A remarkable feature found in the critical examination of the entire group of records totaling 143, 228 seperate land grants, is that although there was undoubtedly a very great scramble for Kentucky land dureing the pioneer period, there appears to be no evidance of fraud, except in one place. This occurs in the volume labeled "W.F.H."-(1827- 1849) a part of which was torn out and copied into County Court Book No-1.

In this nefarious transaction some six fradulent patents, situated in the Jellico Coal Fields, lying in Whitney County, Kentucky and Campbell County, Tennessee and containing about 9,000 acres were copied. Fortunatoly, somewhat later, that part of book "W.F.H." which had been torn out, was found and has been rebound since as a unit, and is now on file in the Land Office at Frankfort, Kentucky.

Mr Charles C Wallingford.

For sometime I have been going to write you, since receiveing a Booklet, stating that you were trying to get all the data posible on the Wallingford History.

My husbands name is Charles A Wallingford. His fathers name was William, and his grandfather Douglas. I had 14 children, 5 boys- Charles A- William J- Oscar L- Forest H- Roland E. 3 grand sons- Charles A- Douglas W- Forest A- 5 generations on our side. We could look into this to find(There are other Wallingfords) out more.

On what is known as the Plaines- Herbert E Wallingford. His fathers name was Andrew Jackson Wallingford, and his father I do not know his name, but he served in the War.

There is a cemetry with some of the old, old Wallingfords bueried there. There were Wallingfords in almost every house there at one time and the place was called Wallingford City. Many of the houses are burned down, but I know where all the buerial lots are. Some away in the woods with big pine trees a foot through, and all grown over with brush. To go through all these, any one would get the names of some of the oldest ~~ofxsomexofxthe~~ Wallingfords.

If you could send someone here to help locate all these names I would go and show them where to go and who to get to see the different families of Wallingford decendents.

I will be very glad to help in any way. Please let me hear from you.

Respectfully,

Mrs Charles Alvin Wallingford

Mr C.H.Murrow
Des Moines, Iowa.

It has been a pleasure to me to fill out the blanks I am now sending you. I well remember my grandmother, Armanda (Wallingford)Cofield, and her sister Mary(Wallingford)Cooper If you havent all their decendents in your history, I think I can furnish the adress of any you might want to write to.

It is a matter of interest to me and perhaps it might interest you to know that the farm on which Armanda Wallingford and her husband Robert Cofield, settled when they came from Kentucky to Ohio Co Indiana, is still owned and occupied by their decendents. We call the home "Hill Top". It lies on the hills just south of the old village,Hartford,. My grandfather Robert Cofield bought the farm of Ben Walker March, 1834 and with his wife and four children John, Robert, Caroline and Walker moved to "Hill Top", where the other five children were born and reared.

My grandfather lived here until his death in 1850, and grandmother continued to make this place her home ever afterward, and died at the age of 79yrs.

Shortly after the close of the Civil War, grandmothers son Steven bought out the interests of his other brothers and sisters, grandmother retaining a life interest in the old home.
Steven Cofield kept the home for about four or five years, then sold it to my father. The home was left to my mother, who sold it to my husband, Lee E Elliott and my self.

It is rather a pretty place overlooking beautiful Laughery Valley, but I think it is because it has been the home of my people for so many years is why it is "Home Sweet Home" to me.
I know all of my grandmothers decendents, they are farmers, lawyers, doctors, dentists, merchants, and I regret to say not a preacher, among the whole tribe, and grandfather and grandmother were staunch Methodists too.
Wishing you sucess in your undertaking, I am,

Lida Cooper Elliott.

Note- am indeavoring to locate this old home and get a picture for the history.

Nicholas had wife Rachel, and daughter Margret, born April 4- 1714

John Wallingford, the first named brother of Ebenezer, lived in Rochester. His Will, made October 1761, was proved Jan 7- 1762. In it he mentions his wife Charity, and sons Peter and William, he allso mentions daughter Mary Dore, Phebe Weymouth, Patience, Hannah and Frances Clement.

From:- Scales History of Dover.

THE WALLINGFORD FAMILY:

Wallingford, is the surname of a respectable family in Dover, N.H. for more than 200 years.

Whether John Wallingford the ancestry of this family, was born abroad or was of a family settled at Bradford Mass as early as 1675 remains to be ascertained.
(Authors note- He was the 2nd son of Nicholas Wallingford-I- the English emegrant who came to Boston in 1638)
But certain it is that Dec 6- 1687, John Wallingford, was married to Mary, daughter of Judge John Tuttle of Dover by Rev John Pike. She was liveing in 1727 when her father gave her a legacy in his Will of that date.

THOMAS WALLINGFORD:-

Hon Thomas Wallingford, of Somersworth, Judge of the Supreme Court of the Province of New Hampshire from 1721 to the time of his death in 1771 was one of the sons of John and Mary(Tuttle) Wallingford. The Will of Ebenezer Wallingford of Dover, made August 19- 1721, proved September 6- 1721, throws some light on the question of the other children liveing at that date.

Thomas Wallingford, whose wife was Margret had:-

1- Hannah Wallingford, born May 5- 1720

Writer:- The stone is partly covered with moss. The work left out looked like call, but it dont make sense so left it ~~out~~.blank.

In Scales History of Stafford County:

Thomas Wallingford lived on the old road, from Dover to Salamon Falls, near the site of the old Somersworth Meeting house at Rollingford Junction, as known to the present generation between the Meeting House and the Falls, being the last house on the left hand side of the road as one approaches the Falls.

I am unable to say whether the house still stands.
Perhaps if you contact Senator Lorenzo Baer of Rollingford and Dr George Nutter of Salamon Falls you may get more inforation
The moss could be removed from the tablet and then photographed. A.F.Gray- #107- Mt Vernon St- Dover N.H. makes a specialty of this class of photography.

The original spelling of the town of Somersworth was Summersworth.

The town of Rollingsford, when set apart from Somersworth, is said to have received its name, from two prominent families, Rollins and Wallingford.

There is a Kirk B Wallingford, 133 Portland Av, Dover N.H. who may have farther information for you.

Letter from: Winthrop Alexander-Washington D.C. Dec 1-1932.
(Now deceased)

I had occasion to go to Marlboro Md, the shire town of Prince George Co, which is about 20 miles from here.
While there I went into the registries of Wills and Deeds and found some data which might interest you.

In my last letter to you I made the guess that Mrs Elizabeth Wallingsford, who made her Will and died in 1741, was the widow of Benjamin, son of Nicholas-I-(Emegrant). I found a deed, drawn 1708 in which Benjamin Wallingsford bought of Col Ninan Beall, 250 acres of land near the Eastern Branch of the Patomic River.
The name in the Deed is spelled both ways- Wallingford and Wallingsford.

Following out my theory, this Benjamin who was born in 1678 would have been 30 years old in 1708, about the right age to have emigrated from New England. Why he did so or how he got there is a question. Nicholas-I- haveing been a sea-faring man - a master mariner, it is reasonable to assume that one or more of his sons liveing on the coast followed the sea.
At this time there was quite a coasting trade between New England and the southern port of Annapolis Md and Alexanderia Va, between which two towns lies Prince George Co. The remarkable coincidence of the names of the children of Benjamin of Maryland and those of New England, is allmost a direct proof of his parentage.
The list of the children in the Will of Elizabeth, starts with Nicholas, and it was the custom to name them in the order of age, Benjamin would naturally name his first son for his father, and the second one for himself, which is the case in the list.

Now look across the Patomic, just below Prince George Co, and you will find Prince Williams Co Va. I have records of two Wallingsfords who married into the Foxworthy family of Prince Williams, which shows that one or more of the Wallingsfords crossed the river. There I think you have the line of migration of your ancestors, and I am very sure that the ~~grandson mentioned in~~ son Benjamin mentioned in Elizabeths Will is the Benjamin who married Prudance Elliott. Do you know when and where Benjamin Wallingsford married Prudance Elliott. This might be traced through the Elliott family.

It seems that Benjamin, son of Nicholas, must be the man who went to Maryland as the New England records show that all other by the name Benjamin are accounted for.

Letter from above date of June 6- 1932.

In looking through the records at the Adj Generals Office here a few days ago I found a James Wallingsford from Maryland and a Samuel from Kentucky in the Revolutionary War; and in the War of 1812 there are two men in Maryland.

Letter from above- date of Feb 16- 1933.

I have recently found- previously overlooked on account of the different spelling of the name- the following from the Maryland Register of Wills- Vol 7:-

John Brown, of Ann Arundell Co-Will dated May 10-probated May 25 1734. Bequeats to Benjamin Wollingford, executor and his heirs his entire estate.

Witness: David Weems, Elizabeth Wollingford and John Wollingford

CONTINUED.

I iterpet this to mean that this Benjamin Wollingford was Benjamin, son of Nicholas Wallingford-I-, witness Elizabeth was his wife , and John his eldest son mentioned first in his mothers Will. It would seem to indicate that the older Benjamin was liveing in 1774 and would account for his son James liveing later in Annapolis, Ann Arundel County. It might allso imply that the wife Elizabeth was a daughter of John Brown.

Letter from above Dec 28- 1933.

My grandfather Benjamin Wallingford was a native of Kentucky, and when a boy came to Clark Co Ohio, with his father allso named Benjamin. Dont know the birthplace of my great grandfather.

My grandfather Benjamin was married twice, his first wife was a Miss Handcock, and they had three children who grew to maturity after their mothers death and of them I know very little.

His second marriage was to Margret Miller, like himself a native of Kentucky. They had two children- my father Richard and his brother Andrew Jackson. They moved from Clark Co to Shelby Co Ohio in 1830, where they resided until 1856, when they moved to Decature Co Iowa, where my grandfather died in 1857. My grandmother survived my grandfather about 3 years.

My father and the family moved from Decature Co Iowa to Nebraska in 1858, which was then a territory and they bought land of the Government with college script. They located 6 miles south of where Lincoln now stands. Nebraska City was the nearest post office I was born on this place in 1861 and am suposed to be the second white child born in what is now Lancaster Co Nebr.

My father was born Jan 20- 1819 in Clark Co Ohio-married Eliza Allen, Jan 11- 1844.
Mother died June 1887 and father in March 1892.

Uncle Dick Wallingford, learning that we had graduated at the carpenters bench, besaught us that we build him a house. We believe that we have the honor of building for uncle Dick, the first frame house in Lancaster Co Nebraska, in the winter of 1861-62.

We call to mind the struggle we had one night the following summer-1862- in makeing a coffin out of hard lumber for grandma Wallingford.

ANDREW JACKSON WALLINGFORD.

Andrew Jackson Wallingford, the youngest child of Benjamin and Margret(Muller) Wallingford, was born in Shelby Co, Ohio- August 9- 1832. The family moved from there in 1853 to Decature Co Iowa, and remained there until 1857 when they again moved to what is now Lancaster Co, Nebraska. While resideing in Decature Co Iowa, Benjamin died and is bueried there. The mode of travel from Ohio to Nebraska, was by ox teams.

On arival in Nebraska, they located on land bought with college script, six miles south of where Lincoln now stands. His mother and the family, erected a log cabbin on the banks of Salt Creek, and this served as a home for several years.

At this time the Indians still claimed Lancaster Co as their hunting grounds, and the pioneers not infrequently came into conflict with them.

Andrew Jackson Wallingford, was appointed United States Marshall, the first marshall for the territory of Nebraska, and had many a round with the aboriginal inhabitants. One battle in particular on the banks of Salt Creek, where the State Prison now stands. As in other activities of the territory, Andrew was a leader in pojati and summoned the voters of Lancaster Co, to their first convention, for the purpose of affecting an orginization, in September 1859. A dozen men, practically the whole voteing power of the County, met at the cabin of William Shirley, on Stevens Creek and chose Andrew J. Wallingford, Mr Forest and W.W.Dunham as County Commissoners. A brother of Andrew J,- Richard Wallingford, was chosen as the first Co Treasurer.

Andrew, was a great buffalo hunter, and thought no year complete without its hunt. He desired always to live on the frontier, and as the country became more thickly settled, he moved farther west. From Lancaster Co he moved to the town of Blue River, known in th early days as Camden, and from there to Beaver Crossing. The Republican Valley was his last home, and he left there to make his final abode in Cherry Co.

He married Matilda Gray as his 1st wife, June 20- 1852 and by this union there were thirteen children, as follows:-

7-1- William J- 2- Frances Marion-3- Jasper- 4- Margret- 5-Malissa
6- Winfield Scott-7- Rosa A- 8-Rossina A-9- Ida May- 10- Andrew
11- James Richard- 12- Horace Greely- 13- Edna.

His 1st wife died Jan 27- 1893.

His 2nd wife was Nellie J English, married March 8- 1899 and by this marriage there were two children:-

7-14- Elmer E- 15- Daniel E.

Andrew died at the home of his son Horace at Valentine Nebr, Nov 8- ~~X9~~ 1920, buerial in Mt Hope Cemetry, Valentine Nebr.- Age 88 yrs.

A City Pioneer Passes Away.

Jerome Shamp, a resident of Lancaster Co for more than 57 years, engaged in the agricultural impliment buisiness, in Lincoln, nearly 45 years, a member of the Nebraska legislature for two terms and a candidate for Congress on the populist ticket in 1890, died Saturday evening after a long ilness, at his home at Seventeenth & Sumner. He was the president of the Shamp Implament Co, 213 So 10th Street. He was 76 years old. Mr Shamp was born in Defiance Co, Ohio- May 14-1847. He enlisted as a Union soldier in 1863, when only 15 years old and served to the close of the War. He came to Lancaster CoJune 6, 1866 and took a homestead at Saltillo, remaining there until 1879, when he moved to Lincoln to engage in the impliment trade.

He married Jane Wallingford, Dec 17, 1870 at the residance of her parents, Lancaster Co homesteaders. Mr & Mrs Shamp claim to be the only persons who were married and have resided continiously in the same County for more than 50 years. They celebrated their Golden wedding at their home 17th & Sumner in 1921. Mrs Shamp is credited with being the oldest settler now liveing in Lancaster Co. She came here with her parents, Mr & Mrs Richard Wallingford in 1857, and the family settled on a homestead near Saltillo. Her father, Richard Wallingford, was the first Treasurer of the County.

Jerome Shamp, was for many years, active in County and State polatics. Was a member of the Nebraska House of Represantives from Lancaster Co in 1886 and 1898, and was a candidate for Congress on the Populist ticket in 1890 against William J Bryan. He was long prominent in the orginization of Nebraska implament dealers and served seven terms as President of the association. Perhaps no man knew more about the early history of the county and its developments than Mr Shamp. The family lived for 40 years at 17th and Sumner St. L.A.Simmons, former sheriff of the county, was 15 years of age and was present at the wedding of Mr & Mrs Shamp in 1870. At their golden anniversary he gave some very interesting reminiscences, of the early days.

When the Burlington railroad reached Lincoln in 1870, Mr Shamp with other farmers were on hand to witness the event. It was the occasion of one of the greatest celebrations in the history of the county. It opened Lincoln to the outside world and was one of the big factors in the development of Lincoln from a stagering town, to a modern city. When he was in Nebraska City in 1866, he saw the only trip of the steam wagon, fited up and financed by J Sterling Morton. Richard Wallingford, Shamps father-in-law is credited with having built the first frame house in Lancaster Co, six miles south of Lincoln, which still stands. It is in this house that he married Miss Jane Wallingford, the daughter.

Dureing the early days, hardly a week passed without an overland freight train passing through the county. Game was plentiful and it was easy to provide meat for the pioneers and their families. He always insicted that the winters of Nebraska in later years were like summer zephyrs compared to the winters of the late sixties. Blizzards were common and the early settlers suffered much privation.

He leaves a wife and 7 children, fourteen grand children, and three great grand children. The children are:-
B.J.Shamp- Yeoford- Alberta, Canada- Mrs Lida Weinburg of Lincoln - Mrs Maud Peters, Harve Mont- Claude E- J.M.Jr- Ole- and Arthur Shamp all of Lincoln Nebr.

Mrs Jerome S~~c~~hamp- Lincoln Resident for 70 years- Dead.

Mrs Jerome Schamp, 77yrs of age- is believed to have held the record for the longest period of residance, in Lancaster Co, passed away Sunday afternoon at the home of her son, Claude E S hamp, 3121 So 13th St. She had lived in the County since 1857.
Mrs Shamp was born in Shelby Co, Ohio, the daughter of Richard and Eliza Wallingford. The family moved to Decature Co Iowa in 1855. Three years later they came to Lancaster Co, settling on a farm six miles south east of the present sight of Lincoln.

Her father, Richard Wallingford was the first Lancaster Co Treasurer, and was prominently connected with buisiness affairs of early times in Lincoln. In 1870 she was married to Jerome K Shamp. Her husband was allso a pioneer of the community, haveing came to Lancaster Co in 1866, just a year after he was mustered out of the Union Army, for a disability suffered in active service. Mr & Mrs Shamp in the early years of their married life lived on a homestead claim that later became a part of Centerville precinct. The family moved to Lincoln in 1876, where Mr Shamp became prominent in the life of the city, founding the Shamp Impliment Co, serving in the State Legislature and otherwise participating in community affairs.

The Shamp home at 1636 South 16th Street was in the early days only connected with Lincoln by a winding muddy road, while Lincoln ist self at the time, when she lived on the farm south of hers was but a village of a few buisiness houses and the homes were mostly sod houses, or made of material which had to be hauled overland. Mrs Shamp continued to live at this home until two years ago when she moved to 2002-K- Street. About two weeks ago she moved to the home of her son where she died yesturday afternoon. She was a member of the Trinity Methodist Church, and in former years had been active in the Womans Relief Corps.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs A.H.Weinberger of Lincoln, Mrs E.T.Peters of Harve Mont, and five sons- J.B. of Yeoford, Canada, -J.M.- Ole and A.T, all of Lincoln, Nebr.

KENTUCKY.

From: History of Maysville and Mason County Kentucky,
By G Glenn Clift- pub 1936- Vol-I- p 57.

Abstract:

On the 22nd day of August XXXS 1786, the citizens law makers of the settlement adressed the following to the Honorable- The Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Delegates, General Assembly of Virginia.

The petition was for the formation of a new village to be called Washington, in the settlement of Limestone in the County of Burbon. The petition was signed by one hundred or more persons, one of which was Benjamin Wallingford.
Limestone, (now Maysville) on the 25 of August 1786 allso adressed a petition to the House of Delegates of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The above is the first positive proof of the name Wallingford, in Kentucky Co, Virginia, which becamethe State of Kentucky 179

Family Tradition claims that the Wallingford emegrants came from Virginia as early as 1775, which is proven to be in error by the Life of Daniel Boone. The first house in what is now the state of Kentucky was buily by Daniel Boone in 1774, near Boonsboro of today. In indeavoring to bring his family from Virginia, at Cumberland Gap they were attact by Indians and a son of Daniel Boone was killed, The family retreated about 40 miles from Cumberland Gap and were not able to occupy this cabin until 1775.
This section of Kentucky was a Battle field, between the English, aided by Indians and the several tribes of Indians alone.
Boone does not mention settlements at Limestone, Mt Gilead, and Washington, but does make a definate statment that there were large numbers of settlers came from Virginia to this region in 1784&85.

Due to the fact that the statment is made by the several families who migrated at the same time with the Wallingfords and formed the emegrant party were the Willetts, Applegates and Laytons it is believed that the place in Virginia where they came from and the date which they left Virginia and came to Kentucky, may be obtained by a search of the records of the above families.
Due the numerous m intermariages with the above named families is allso evidance of the proof.

It is allso a fact that Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky were battle fields dureing the Civil War, and many of the court houses were destroyed by cannonading and fires, and records were destroyed. Positive proof by records may never be obtained.

SOUTHERN WALLINGFORDS.

The writer for several years through family connections and research, has been quite familiar with the genealogy of the Wallingfords of New England, but did not realize that there were many more of the name in other parts of the United States.

Nicholas Wallingford, allso called Wallington, came from England to Massachusetts as a boy in 1638, settled in Newbury. He married August 30- 1654, Sarah Travis, daughter of Henry and Bridget. He was a mariner and dissapeared in 1681, as shown by a Certificate of that year, his estate being settled a year or two later. Family tradition has it that he was captured by Barbary pirates.

Nicholas and Sarah had thirteen children as follows: 1John-2-Nicholas-3 John(again)-4- Sarah, 5- Mary-6- James,7- Hannah 8-William-9- Joseph- 10- Elizabeth, 11- Esther- 12- Benjamin 13- Abagail, born from 1655 to 1680.

Nearly all of these children are accounted for but Benjamin, the 12th child and youngest son, who was born June 27-1676 in Bradford Mass and thereafter dissapeared from the records. About two years ago the writer, in searching Maryland Records, for other families, found several Wallingfords in Prince George Co and farther investigation developed others farther south, so he set about to find some facts of them.

In the register of Probates and Deeds at Upper Marlboro, Prince George Co, was found some interesting information. Col Ninian Beall of Prince George Co sold for 39 English pounds (195.oo dollars) on June 20- 1708 to Benjamin Wallingsford of said county-planter- 250 acres of land lying eastward of the east Branch of the Patomic river in said co, called"Wallingsfords Purchase"

Benjamin Wallingsford died before 1741, as his widow Elizabeth, made her Will the 11th April that year and it was probated June 24 following. In it she mentions her seven children as:- Nicholas, Benjamin, John,James, Joseph, Elizabeth Dove and Sarah Brashears, allso a grand son Benjamin. The births or babtisms of these children are not to be found in the records, of old Queen Annes Parish, which are in the Washington Cathedral.

The coincidance of these names with those of the family of Nicholas of Massachusetts, seems to be almost conclusive proof of the identity of Benjamin of Maryland as the missing son of Nicholas Undoubtedly others of the Maryland group went south as all the names of the southern states cannot be traced.

There is apparantely no other family of the same name in America, other than that of Nicholas, from which Benjamin could have decended. The maiden name of Elizabeth, wife of Benjamin of Prince George Co, was not found, but a clue exists in the following from Maryland Callender of Wills, Vol 7- John Brown of Anne Arundell Co in his Will of May 10, 1734, bequeats to Benjamin Wallingsford, and his heirs his entire estate. Posibly and quite probably, John Browns daughter, Elizabeth was Benjamin Wallingsfords wife.

OVER.

Now let us conjecture how this Benjamin, appears to have left Massachusetts, and to locate in Maryland, if he did so. Nicholas, the emegrant, haveing been a sea fareing man and liveing near the coast, it is but natural that at least one or more of his sons should have followed the same calling. At this period there was quite a costal trade between the New England ~~states~~ and the Southern Colonies. Two important southern ports,-Alexanderia and Annapolis, from which large quantities of tobbaco were exported. Alexanderia is but a few miles from the estate of Benjamin Wallingsford, and Annapolis in Anne Arundel Co is not far to the eastward.

It is but natural that an ambitious young man, an orphant, member of a large family, should seek to locate himself where the oppertunities for wordly advancement were better and the climate more agreeable than the New England Colonies. Perhaps Elizabeth had some influence on his decision to locate in the southern colony.

--SOCIAL HEREDITY---

Man is no mushroom growth of yesturday;
His roots strike deep into the hallowed mold
Of the dead centuries;ordinances old
Govern us whether gladly we obey,
Or vainly struggle to resist their sway;
Our thoughts by ancient thinkers are controlled,
And many a word in which our thoughts are told
Was coined long since in regions far away.

The strong-souled nations, destined to be great
Honor their sires and reverance the Past;
They cherish and improve their herritage.
The weak, the blind self trust or headlong rage,
The olden times transmitted treasures cast
Behind them, and became their loss to late.

(John Kells Ingram)

CONSOLATION.

The span of human life, at best, is short-
Why count the paltry years; their most is naught
When measured against Eternities amount
A year, or ten, or fourscore do not count.
A myriad have been- in love and hate,
Have played their parts for power and estate;
Have jingled coin, exalted puny pride.
Tell me, who were they and where did they bide?
I do not even know the kings who died
In yesturday, except some vagant pen
By chance has willed their dim careers to men.

If but the seed I leave behind me live and thrive,
What matter if the tree does not survive?
I have known pain- yet there were vast delights.
If dark moods rode across the sullen nights,
the dawns were more resplendent for the gloom.
Man born of womans travail knows his doom:
Knows that he goes to join the mighty host
That journeys ever to the Stygian coast.
Despot and martyr and master and slave,
Brothers and equals we enter the grave!
Down in the tomb of all, back to the womb of all,
Thrust in the dust of our makeing and then
Out of the lot of us, out of the rot of us,
Out of the crumbling of things that were men-
Draining the sweet rains and suns of spring skies,
Flowers shall blossom and green corn shall arise.

_*THE_TOWN_OF_WALLINGFORD_ENGLAND._

WALLINGFORD, is 46 miles south and west of London. It was known by the Ancients Britons as GAHLEN, signifying the old fort. It was called by the Saxons- Wealingford, by corruption of the Saxons- Wealingford, by corruption of the Ancient British name and by allusion to a ford in the river, Thames.

The town of Wallingford, was burned by the Danes in 1006 and it speedly rose from the ashes, and was the birthplace of the Danish King Sweyn in 1013. It acquired from William the Conqueror, a reconstructed strong castle, which figured promently in the subsiquent stormy age and is noted in the following articles.

It had at the Census of Domesday, taken in 1086- 276 houses.

In the time of Henry VIII- it had fourteen churches, but now has only four.

It gave birth to the Monkish Historian, John of Wallingford- of the 12th Century and Abbott Richard of Wallingford, who died in 1335, and gave the the title of Viscount to the Earl of Banbury- Viscount Wallingford. The town hall was built in 1670.

The four churches are:- All-Hallows,- St Leonards,* St Marys,-and St Peters.

Sir William Blackstone, the distinguished Judge and author of the Comentary, who died Feb 14, 1780 is bueried in the knave of St Mary la More.

The present sight of Wallingford, was occupied by a Roman-British Settlement and was a fortified town before the Conquest. The earthworks with which the Romans encompassed the town is still distinctly traceable. The Treaty of Wallingford, was signed here in 1152, thus ending one of their Civil Wars.

Ancient Earthworks of Wallingford

The town of Wallingford, was surrounded on three sides by a high Vellum, a considerable part of which remains, and without this by a moat filled by water, by inversion of a stream, the Thames river, which flowed from the west. Coins and other remains of the Roman period have been dug up from time to time.

_Wallingford_Castle._

Wallingford Castle, is another example of the same construction, though the earthworks have been elaborated, posibly at a later date. The mound is in the center of the south side, and a deep trench runs around part of its circumferance.

Around it stretching to the north to include the bailey, are three other moats which are not however on the east, where we find traces of formible bastions and other defenses which gardle the sides exposed to the river.

Vol-II- page 118.

In 777-Ofa, driveing Cynwall of Wessex, enrout from Bensington back behind the old frontier of Ashdown, proceeded to lay violent hands on all lands westward from Wallingford.

(Note:- While we have no definate date as to when the town of Wallingford was founded, this brings out definate proof of its existance at an early date. This-777 A.D.- is the oldest date we have found under the name Wallingford)

Wallingford Castle, is a precinct of the town of Wallingford and was reconstructed by William The Conqueror on the site of a previous Saxon Castle. This was held by Brian Fitzcount, for the Empress Maud, and was the birthplace of King Johns son- The Earl of Cromwell, which was later given to him. It was allso the death place of the Black Princess wife- Jean.

The Castle was given to Henry-V's widow, Catherine and by Henry VIII to Woolsey. This was a garrison for Charles-I-in 1644 and was taken by fairflax in 1646, was then dismanteled and now represents but a small remains, The ivy-manteled tower, named after Eleanor of Provence, Queen of Henry II, and the ruins of a ~~kāxsankury~~ thirteenth century window.
A great tree-coverd mound marks the place where the grand Keep once stood and other parts of the fortifications may be traced in a simular manner.

Close to the site of the Keep are the remains of an old scholastic building which once belonged to the 6ollegiate Church of St Nicholas. This church was in a flourishing condition in the days of the Black Prince, and continued to enjoy a measure of prosperity until its suppression in the reign of Edward-VI. Rooms built into a fragment of the old church have been fitted up as an interesting museum, and contain valuable geological and historical relics, some of the latter throwing light on the history of the Castle.

Like most of the strongholds belonging to cruel barons, in the reign of Stephen,- Wallingford Castle possessed its chambre acrucir, or torture chamber, connected with its horrible dungeons After its demolition by Cromwell the ruins became the property of the Crown and the estate was finally disposed of in 1817. The castle grounds are beautifully laid out.

Modern Wallingford- England.

Wallingford is a town of sheep. It has been a town of sheep since the time of William the Conqueror. Through all its long history, farmers have stood about in the market places, or leaned their backs against the old walls and talked of"ship" as the word is pronounced in Berkshire- and of "ships feed"

It is a quiet little place lying in the valley of the Thames and so modest that were you ask the farmers about its story, they would probably shake their heads, never haveing heard of the fortifications that were built in the days of Alfred the Great, nor of the destruction that took place at the hands of the Danes in the year 1006. The fact that nothing but a mound and earthworks remain of the great castle that was built in William the Conquerors reign troubles them not at all, nor do they feel any special interest in the records which tell of the way in which it held out for Charles-I-.

Were you to mention the old bridge that spans the river, they would be quicker to inform you that orders were received by the Burgesses of the town in the reign of Queen Elizabeth to take toll of all carts passing over its many arches, in order to provide for its maintenance and repair.

Once a year, on Michaelmas Day, the farmers drive in from the surronding country to take part in the ancient fair- the last survival of many fairs that once made the ~~t~~ little town gay- and to select their servants for the coming year from the laborers who stand about for hire.

THE ORIGIN OF HERALDRY.

The origin of Heraldry may be traced back to the dawn of history. Primitive peoples painted or tattooed tribal badges on their bodies; the Egyptians, Hebrews, Chinese and Japanese used symbols, simular to those of heraldry. The Aztecs of Mexico carried shields and banners bearing personal or tribal devices. The heroes of ancient Greece and Rome inscribed hereditary ensign on their shields. Centuries later the Norman invaders of England in 1066 bore shields emblazoned with crudely devised insigna.

All these early devices lack the essential characteristics of true armoral bearings.

True heraldry, dates from the early twelfth century. There is no record of the use of such bearings dureing the First Crusade of 1096 and they were extremely rare dureing the Second Crusade of 1147 By 1189, a number of the shields born in the Third Crusade were emblazoned. The great seal of Richard the Lion-Hearted in the same year showed his shield charged with a lion rampant.

Three factors contribute to the rise of heraldry; first mans natural desire to enhance his personal apperance, which found expression in the ornamentation of his military equipment; second, the need among warriors who covered their heads and bodies with armor, for identifying marks, easily recognizable in the press of battle, and thirdly, the need of an age when few could write and personal seals served instead of signatures on offical or private papers, for seals of clearly identifiable design.

Heraldry was the answer to these requirements of the times, and with remarkable swiftness it came into general use. From the begining of the thirteenth century, princes, nobles, knights and gentry adopted the custom and proudly displayed their arms in Architectural and household decorations, in jewelry, in embroidery as well as on their paraphernalia of war. From the practice of embroidering the family device on the surcoat, worn over the coat of mail, comes the expression "Coat of Arms".

In the earlier days of heraldry arms were chosen by the bearer to suit his fancy. Crosses in many forms were adopted, in some instances perhaps to commemorate service in the Crusades, but more often merely as a symbol of Christanity. Broad horizontal, vertical or slanting stripes of vivid color, across the shield were chosen as being simple to emblazon and easily recognizable. Beasts, dragons, birds, fishes, the heavenly bodies, trees, fruis plants, and objects familiar to every day life of the Middle Ages were adopted as charges. Lions, eagles and foxes, representing the virtues which the medieval mind attributed to these creatures, were frequently employed.

as "Coats of Arms" became more numerous, confusion resulted from the unrestrained adoption of arms and from the practice by feudal lords of allowing favorite followers to use their bearings. In the early part of the 15th Century a proclamation of Henry-V prohibeted thereafter in England the assumption of arms except by virtue of inheritance or a grant from the crown.

"COAT OF ARMS"

Out of the Middle Ages and down through the centuries to the world of today comes the proud custom and the romatic tradition of the ancestral coat of arms. Devised in remote days of chivalry borne by armed knights in tournaments and on ancient battle fields cherished by illustrious forbears of ages past, and handed down from generation to generation as a sacred emblem of family honor, the coat of arms is an object of pride and distinction for its bearer today and an heirloom which generations of his decendents will treasure.

Since armorial bearings are hereditary, American decendents of British and Continental families have the unquestionable right to use the arms borne by their ancestors. Moreover, such coats of arms are as vital a part of ones genelogical record as the name of the ancestors who bore them. With the growing consciousness of pedigree and the increasing interest in genealogy among cultured Americans, the kindred subject of heraldy- the science of coats of arms- is now experiancoeing a notable revival of general attention.

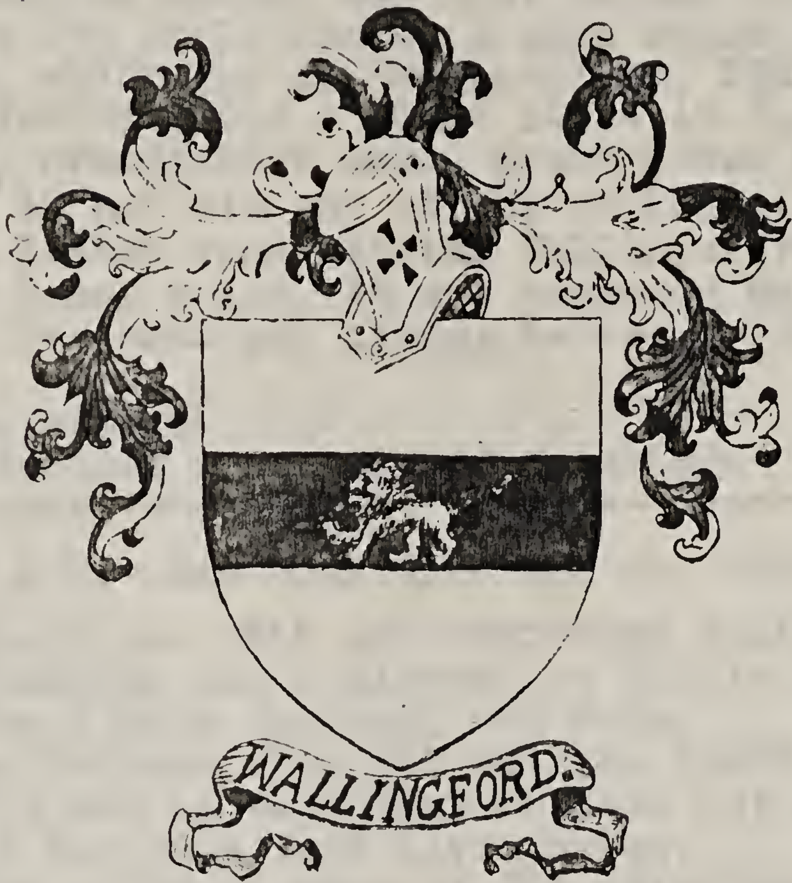
In colonial America armoral bearings were handed down from generation to generation, and the custom was by no means discarded when political ties with England were severed. It was reguarded as an emblem of family, rather than of nationality, arms continued in common use dureing the Revolution

At the present time cultured Americans, are revealing a greater interest than ever before in family history, genelogical research, and the intimately related subject of heraldy.
Genealogy and heraldry are now ignored only by those who have no ancestors of whom they can be proud. Love of ancestry is an ~~inner~~ instinct deep rooted in mans nature. Pride of ancestry is an admirable trait, contributing to healthy self-respect and stirring ambition to add new honors to the family name. The thoughtful American of today takes sincere pride in a long line of distinguished descent and in the heraldic emblems which they testify to the bravery, the achievements and the honor of the forbears.

THE WALLINGFORD "COAT OF ARMS"

From: Burkes General Armory- Edition 1884- page 1068.

WALLINGFORD- Ar on a fess gu- a lion pass- of the field.



The Meaning of the Wallingford "Coat of Arms".

The Symbols were worn on a surcoat above the armor of a warrior and so became the "Coat of Arms". The fesse or band across the silver shield of a Wallingford, came from a girdle which helped to hold the shield in place. On this bright red(gules) band meaning martial fortitude and magnamity, was the lion, denoteing bravery and power, one of the best known animals of heraldry; while the argent or silver shield denotes peace and sincerity.

We do not know why a Wallingford family used this device to identify their family, but it was and still is, recorded in Heralds College of Arms in London, England.

ALABAMA.

From: Mrs William Van Berry- Limerock, Ala- Oct 14- 1932.

I do not know the date or age of my grandfather. He died when father was a boy.My grandmother married again and father and his step father could not agree and he left home at the age of 18. I think they lived in Virginia at the time, and father came to Scottsboro, where he and mother were married, and they then moved to Lime Rock, liveing there until his death in 1893. I never saw my father as he died before my birth.

I remember hearing mother say that father never heard from any of his brothers but uncle Meade. I have found two old letters, a part of one gone, which was writen April 13, 1881 from Fredricksburg Va. My grandfather owned a large place in Virginia, but after ~~father died~~, grandfather died, grandmother never tried to do any thing about it nor did any of the children.

We received a letter from William Wallingsfords daughter about 9 years ago from a Texas point. It was answered but we have not had a reply since. Her name and adress is Mrs J Otis Brown, Lebo Kansas.

He talked like there might be more of the relatives in Tennessee.
I dont think Sam can read or write and I dont supose he could help you very much.

My only child, Richard Olney Wallingford, died in his 21st year, while at the University.

Letter Aug 31- 1931.

It would appear that my grandfather Richard Wallingford, was one of several children. I have heard him speak of his brother Andrew Jackson Wallingford and Margret Carson, His sister.
I remember hearing my grandfather say, he was born in Shelby Co Ohio. He was a reader of history, and told me many things, which I should have recorded of the early days of his boyhood in Ohio.
I have no recolections of any other brothers nor sisters, other than Andrew Jackson Wallingford and Margret Carson of whom he told me nothing, except to hint at some border hero- Kit Carson.
Andrew Jackson Wallingford, came west and settled in Nebraska.

My father died Jan 7- 1932 in his 81st year- born June 4- 1851, of heart failure after an ilness of 3 hours.

Letter- Nov 25- 1932.

Fathers family were of Kentucky, Of his parents, I know only that his father was named Benjamin, and that he had a brother, James, who was the father of Richard, William and Benjamin, liveing at one time in northern Nebraska. If I could get my own immediate family in a group, would represent 21 persons.

Personally contacted Mrs Tuttle and her brother Archie Wallingford who lives at Modesto Calif and obtained a good record.

Extract of a letter writen July 17 1926 by Henry Wallingford Boneparte, Ia to Mrs Myrtle Henry- Des Moines Ia.
He is the father of the above two.

My father was born at Maysville Ky. Soon after his father died and his mother married a man by the name of Ellis. By the time father was 8 years old they had moved to Indiana-40 miles from Cincinnati,Ohio.
He and his stepfather did not get along, so his mother and he made it up for him to leave home. He went to Cincinnati and went on a steamboat, as a cabin boy, and was on the river until he was 14 years old. He went ashore at Burlington Iowa,and went to work on a farm. When old enough he was married to Harriet Jackway, who died in about a year. He then married my mother about 1854 near Galesburg Ill. In 1866 they moved to Mt Pleasant Ia and in the fall of that year in the home in which I now live. I do not recall hearing him speak of his folks very much-only an uncle Mark.

From Edward L Wallingford- Perkins-Que- Canada-
~~Feb 9 1933~~. Aug 28- 1932.

I have for years worked very interestingly to find some relation, or where the Wallingfords came from. My Dad was pure English, I traced the family to Co Kent, and found many Wallingfords in Dover England.

My fathers name was George- he had 4 brothers, Joseph, John Nicholas, Edward and George, My father was the youngest of the boys, and he allso had 2 sisters. I can just remember of seeing uncle Nicholas and John when they left Ottuwa, Canada to go to Albany N.Y. where we lost all traces of them.

I have here 3 brothers, George, John and William, and 3 siters all liveing, though well advanced in years. I have 9 sons and 2 daughters, all liveing and in good health.

John and Nicholas went to Albany in 1864.

Letter Feb 9- 1933.

Data gathered in England 1920 and from British Books.

I find the name Wallingford as early as the 6th Century, and in the 8th century we read that Ateling, trying to suceed to the Throne, and not to submit to the Romans, crossed the river Thames 50 miles from London at the town of Wallingford, later about the 10th century we find that the Britons resisted the many attacts of the Romans. A Treaty was made, Called the Treaty of Wallingford, which was the ruleing factor for 180 years.

When in England last, that is the town of Wallingford, at the begining there was a family by the name of Walling, and that the country for miles around, would cross the river there and called it Wallings-ford and that the name originated from there, some retained the S, and others left it out.

Mineing is my chief activity. I own considerable land and mines, and the Old Wallingford mine was about the richest Mica mine in America, and is known all over the world

I understand they lost their farm as they never went back.

Letter of March 26- 1933- Florance Wallingford R.N-Washington D.C.

My birthplace was in Fleming Co Ky near a little hamlet Mt Carmel. George William Wallingford my father died when I was 7 years old leaving 3 brothers younget than I.
My mother, Elizabeth Davenport, married J.B.Williams, some years later and I have a half sister Gladys Williams.
My grand father William Francis Wallingford, died before my birth. His wife was Judith Truitt. His father, my great grand father was allso named William and he was twice married. I think one of his wives was a Cooper. My aunt Ella Wallingford, who married Frank Foxworthy will be able to give me this information.
I believe that my grand father and Dr Alvin Wallingford were first cousins. My great grandfather was a slave holder and a large land holder in his day. At his death he was involved in debt until it took all his holdings. My father left us penniless and we lived with my grand mother Judith Wallingford.

Letter June 17- 1933

My grand father is bueried in the Mt Carmel Cemetry. My great grand father and mother are bueried on the home farm. When I was a child I often went there. There was a board fence and many trees, and the mounds were all covered with ivy. My grand mother said that he left money to have a stone fence constructed around the grave yard, and it seems that the son who administered the estate never had it done. I have learned that the fence is down and the grave stones have fallen and I dont supose it would be posible to get a picture.

Letter Nov 20- 1933

I am sending two snapshots of the old homestead of my great grand father, William Wallingford, located on Farrows Creek. There were cabins for the negroes in the rear- about 20 in number.
The family graveyard was over the way on another hill. When I was a child the stones were still standing, but it is a baren spot to day I understand.
My great grandmother, Fannie Thomas, commited suiside by hanging her self to a bed post in one of the upper chambers in the rear of the house. A niece of the present owner, Mrs Annie Glascock, died in the same room by drinking carbolic acid.

Letter from Mrs Mary H Stowers- Oakley Idaho- May 22- 1941.

Just received a letter from my sister Mrs Edna Furgison of Spearfish So Dak. She sent me the Wallingford name list that you had sent to her.

Our brother Jasper McKirahan lives at Granite Oregon. He served in the World War and is in very poor health. Just now he is in the Veterans Hospital at Boise Idaho.

Our daughter Mrs Vera Ethel Hains, lives at 916 Warm Springs Ave Boise, Idaho.

I have the old family Bible. I sent the records it contains to John Wallingford, of Des Moines Ia in 1922.

We have 4 daughters liveing. Our son lives in Rexburg Ida

The indian blood story came prrety direct- though up to the time we did not even suspect any thing.

LUTHER FAIRFAX WARDER, Sr

Luther Fairfax Warder, Sr, son of Hiram K Warder and Mary Wallingford, was born on a farm, in Fleming Co, Kentucky December-2- 1840, and it was here that he spent his boyhood days. Dureing the Civil War, while still under 21 years of age, he organized the first Company of Union soldiers, in Fleming Co Kentucky, which was Company B- 16th Kentucky Infantry. Soon after he was made First Lieut and Captain of his Company- July 20- 1862.

He was in the Battle of Iron Mountain, on the Big Sandy river in Kentucky, and in field service for several months. While on duty of constructing the Paxton Bridge across Salt River Kentucky, he was taken sick Sept 20- 1862, was unconscious for two weeks, with what appeared to have been Typhoid Fever, and he remained on Sick Report until December 13- 1862, when examined by the Regimental Surgeon, and pronounced unfit for farther Military Service, and he was given a Surgeons Certificate of Disability, and resigning his Commission was discharged.

He was united in marriage to Elizabeth Ann Lewis, Nov 16, 1865 in Jeffersonville, Indiana. They were the parents of four children After marriage he returned to Fleming Co Ky and was engaged in Farming and stock raising. He became an Internal Revenew Assessor and later a Stor keeper.

In 1871 he and his family returned to Jeffersonville, Indiana where he held a position as Time Keeper for the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis Railway Co.

Soon after he became active in polatics, and was a factor not only in the city of Jeffersonville, but the County and the 3rd Congressional District of the State. He served as Mayor of Jeffersonville from 1875 to 1882. In 1883 he was appointed Door Keeper to the National House of Represenitves, Washington D.C., where with his large personal acquaintance, enabled him to assist in secureing the appropration for the Jeffersonville Levee

On Leaving the Mayors office he was in failing health and so continued until his death, June 12 1902.
The city of Jeffersonville named a Park in his honor.
He was of a kindly sympathetic nature, was always assisting his fellow man. He wore thetypical mustache and goatee of the traditional Southern Gentleman.

Letter- from Mrs Cora Mays- Plainfield Ind- June 5- 1934.

I know very little about my ancestors on the Wallingford line. My parents, Clark Blair Mark and Amelia Wallingford, were born in Fleming Co-Mt Carmel, Kentucky. They were married in Kentucky and their four children were born there. They came to Hendricks Co Indiana dureing the Civil War, I think in 1862. I remember my grandmothers maiden name was Mary Mark. My father and mother were first cousins. Mother had 7 brothers and 7 sisters, but I do not recall their names.

Uncle Bruce(Squire) Wallingsford married Sarah Tarkington and settled in Green County Indiana. They were the parents of John Wallingford of Elnora Ind. Uncle Samuel Wallingford, settled at Sheridan, India, but we know nothing of the family. Uncle Miles Wallingford, married Elizabeth West, and settled in Iowa. We know nothing of their family. There were 4 mote brothers, but I dont recall their names. Aunt Armanda Wallingford married a Dean and xx settled in Kansas. Aunt Lucinda married a Gill; Aunt Martha married a Harry- aunt Ann married a Hammond, aunt Matilda married a Bowman. Aunt Emily not married and I dont know about aunt Sabrah.

Letter from Joseph C Wallingford- Nov 25-1910- Geneseo Ill to Chas Murrow-

My father had four brothers- Clark, Richard, James and William(Colton). Clark, Richard and James died at West Liberty Iowa, and William(Colton) at Fremont Nebr.
Clark had four children, and Richard two.
James had 14 children and William 6 or 7.
My uncle Clark, was only about 4 to 5 years older than father and must have been born about 1817 or 17.
My father had two cousins-James and Joseph, who lived in Ohio the last we heard of them. It might be that this James G(Gilkey) Wallingford and fathers cousins are the same.

If you want to correspond with my brother, Benjamin F Wallingford of Kenton, Ohio, I think he can give you a great deal more information than I can. I wrote my oldest brother, Benjamin F.W.-in Ohio and he said our grandfathers name was James- that he was born in Kentucky near Lexington, and came to Clark Co Ohio with his wife and one child.

Letter of August 11-1910.

I inquired of my oldes sister about great grandfathers name and she said it was Richard, and that he had two sons, grandfather James and his brother Benjamin.

James had five sons:- Clark, Richard, Benjamin, James and William (Colton) and three girls, Nancy, Elizabeth, and Polly Benjamin had two sons- Richard and Jackson.

From:- William Jewell Wallingsford, M.D. Maywood Ill- Nov 12- 1931.

My father was a Pvt in the 12th Virginia Calv, Confederate from the begining to the end of the Civil War. His home at the outbreak of the War was 4 miles south of Fredricksburg, Va. His mothers maiden name was Thorpe, and dads middle name is Thorpe for his mothers family. Dads father died, when dad was quite young. His father was a shoe merchant in Fredricksburg Va. His death was before the Civil War broke out.

My grandmother later married a man named Williams, who was her cousin, who had returned from the California gold regions, was quite wealthy and he bought a large plantation south of Fredricksburg, on the plank road to Richmond.

To the Wallingsfords, seven children were born, the oldest of which was John, who went to Alabama. Mead was accidatly killed by a street car in Washington D.C.
A cousin of mine, Gordon White of 132 Union Av- Mt Vernon N.Y. can give you a great deal on the family, as he was reared from a child on the old home place and knew the immediate family better than I.

Dad and a company of Virginians came immediately after the Civil War and settled near Holt in Kerney Co Mo. I was born and reared in Holt Mo. I received my education in the Public and High School of Holt Mo. Served in the Spanish-American War and the ~~Phi~~ Phillipine Insurection. First Murrows in America.

Scottish Prisoners sent to Massachusetts in 1652, by Order of the English Government.

London this 11th of November 1651.

Capt Jno Greene:

Wee whose names are under writen, freighters of your shipe, The John & Sara, do order yow forthwith as wind and weather shall permit to sett sajle for Boston in New England & there deliver our Orders and Servants to Tho:
Kemble of Charles Tonne to be disposed of by him acording to orders wee have sent him.

(Extract of about 150 names)

Neille Murrow
Jonas Murrow
James Murrow
John Murrow.

Entered and Recorded at the Request of Thomas Kemble,
May 14- 1652.

Edward Ranson, Recorder.

The following is from Govenor Hutchinsons Collection of Original Papers, and may furnish some light in respect to the above mentioned Prisoners sent to this country and sold for slaves by order of the English Government as a sort of a banishment for their rebellion.
It is probable that some of them were sent to Barbadoes, as all their names do not appear in any other way in this country except on the above list.

Extracts from a letter writen by Rev John Cotton to the Lord General Cromwell, dated at Boston in N.E. 28th of 5th- 1651, respecting some prisoners of the same class of persons included in the above list, sent over before their arrival.

They all probably were taken at the Battle of Dunbar, Sept 3- 1650, when Cromwell was victorious and 4000 wer slain and 10,000 made prisoners.

I am very much interested in this Genealogy, and will be pleased to render you any assistance that I positively can. I have been studying our family Bible, and find referance to the four brothers- Joseph Thornton-my grand father- Mark who was killed instantly by being thrown from a horse, Richard and Nicholas.
The family reside about 13 miles south east of Maysville Ky.
Joseph, my grand father was killed by a team of oxen. I had a great uncle Mark- who lived in Ohio. I have a family Bible published in 1826, which originally was the property of Joseph, and the records were started by him. There were three marks in the records which we have.

The first one, son of Benjamin, was killed on what was then known as Big Hill, near Mt Gilead, in Mason Co Ky, Oct 9- 1815. He had a son Mark who was killed in an old horse mill in the same County, allso near Mt Gilead. Joseph Thornton, my grand father, had a son Mark, born 1797, who is refered to in the records as Mark of Ohio. Mark of Ohio, is my great uncle. We have the records of William Henry Wallingford, son of the Mark, killed in the mill, who went to Chicago Illinois. We have no knoledge of any other of this Marks progeny.

From A.F.Parker- Frankfort Kentucky, Monday Morning- Aug8- 1831.

Dear Madam:

It is my painful duty to inform you of the death of your son, Alexander M Wallingford, who was drowned in the Kentucky river on yesturday evening about 3 oclock P.M.

He had gone with some of his young acquaintances for the purpose of bathing. All could swim with the exceptions of himself. He it seemed, contrary to their advice would venture to far from shore and went eventually into a strong current and drownded.

Every effort was made on yesturday evening to regain him but all was unsucessful. We will again to day, ~~xxxxxx~~ we all exceptions and if sucessful, you may rest asured every respect shall be paid his remains.

It would be unnecessary for me to indeavor to give you the state of my feelings at present and I know no one more deeply regrets his departure than I do.

I am, Very Respectfully
Your friend & Obedient Servent
A.L.Parker.

Letter from: A.L.Parker- Frankfort Kentucky- Thursday Aug 11- 1831.

Dea Mother:

On yesturday morning the body of Alexander Wallingford was found about 2 miles below town on the oposite side of the ~~river~~ Kentucky river. It was much bruised and so much swoolen that I could hardly recognize it as the same person

He was buerled yesturday evening in the private graveyard of W. John Harvie, of this town and every respect was paid his remains.

There was a respectable company attended the deceased to the grave and a very appropriate private prayer by the Rev John T Edgar.

I would by the mail have writen Mrs Wallingford, but not knowing whether she would think of inquiring for a letter from me, I have thought it the most speedy mode of communication to her, through you.

Please tell Mrs Wallingford I have reserved a lock of her sons hair which I will send her, the first opertunity.

Please communicate the contents of this letter to her on its receipt or send this letter to her. I will write you again in a few days to Lewisburg. In the meantime, I should be pleased to hear from you.

My love to my father and sisters, and believe me,

affectionately your son,

A.L.Parker.

Copy of an Article writen by Alvin Monroe Wallingford M.D to be published in the Wallingford History.
Prepared before his death and sent to Charles H Murrow- Des Moines Ia.

There is no calling in which a man can exercise his energies and the best that is in him, that is more taxing and demands closer attention than the Practice of Medicine, and Surgery. The true and able Physician must possess an adaptability that permits him readily to understand the mental as well as the physical conditions which he meets in the sick room and he must moreover possess a love for his work for its own sake aside from any renumeration which it can bring.

A wide and varied preliminary training is demanded and the years must be filled with study and investigation in order to keep abreast with the progress that is continually being made by the medical fraternity. Dr Wallingford, well qualified in all the particulars indicated is now sucessfully engaged in the Practice of Medicine and Surgery at Mt Carme, Fleming Co, Kentucky, where he began his Practice in 1865, and has ever since resided.

With his son he is interested in the agricultural work of the county the two of them owning some 400 acres in and about Mt Carmel.

Dr Wallingford was born in Lewis Co, Aug 31, 1841, the son of Mark Wallingford and Martha Ann Willett. Mark Wallingford was a merchant, born at Mt Gilead, Mason Co, May 3- 1803, and pursued his Mercantile operations at Tollesboro for 30 years, prior to his death in 1858. His father Nicholas Wallingford, was born in Fauquier County Virginia; he had 3 brothers, Joseph, Richard and Mark, comeing by flat boat to Limestone(now Maysville) in 1775, the year of the begining of the Revolutionary War, in which some of them were participants.

They were acompanied by the Willetts and Applegate families. The Wallingford brothers were energetic young fellows and among their remarkable achievements was the cutting of a road through the forest and the establishment of the town of Mt Gilead, 12 miles from Maysville and about 4 miles from the town of Mt Carmel. They all reared large families, were trust worthy folks and secured thousands of acres of land upon which they made their homes for the rest of their lives. They were Babtist in Religion and stanch Whigs politically; they were prominent and wealthy, as well as all movements tending toward the advancment of the community.

Dr Wallingfords mother whose maiden name was Martha A Willett, was born March 4- 1810 and died January 7- 1883. She was a zealous member of the Prespyterian Church, and a leader in its good work. Her parents were Richard and Nancy Willett, cousins, who lived near Maysville, Kentucky.

Dr Wallingford, was born and reared at Tollesborough, Lewis Co Ky and there in Washington Seminary received his preliminary education. Upon decideing to adopt the Medical profession as his own, it became his privolage to enter the office of Dr James Shackleford of Maysville with whom he studied for a time. He later matriculated in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia Penn, and from that institution, one of the best known in the Nation, he graduated in 1865. He located at once at Mt Carmel, Fleming Co Ky, hanging out his shingle in April 1865, and he has Practiced here continously, since that date, being the kindly friend and doctor of scores of families who have rejoiced to have him with them in the most serious moments of life.

On the 16th day of May 1867, Dr Wallingford was happily married, the lady of his choice being Miss Bettie Foxworthy, daughter of Alexander and Sarah(Goddard) Foxworthy.

The name by which Mrs Wallingford was christened was Elizabeth Masterson Foxworthy, and she is of an excellent family.
She is a decendent of the Calverts, the family of Lord Baltimore and one of her forbears was the Mr Masterson who built the first Methodist Episcopal Church at Lexington Kentucky. Both of her grand mothers were Calverts. Her father, Alexander Foxworthy, owned a farm near Mt Carmel, where he died in his 81st year, in 1898
He was born April 4- 1817 in Fleming Co Kentucky.
His twin brother James, lived to a great old age 94, in 1910, upon the farm where he was born. The farm is now owned by Alexander M Wallingford a son of the writer.
The above mentioned were loyal democrats. There were several religious faiths, the Foxworthys were Babtist, the Goddards were Methodist and the Wallingfords Prespyterians.

Dr and Mrs Wallingford, have but one child, a son Dr Alexander Wallingford, born in 1868. He studied Medicine with his father and later entered the Louisville Medical College, from which he graduated in 1890. He later took work in the New York Polyclinic in the year 1900. He has engaged in Practice in Mt Carmel, and is gifted in his line. He married Miss Sarah F Overton in 1892
She is a daughter of Thomas Overton a native of Virginia, who died in 1903. They are the parents of two daughters, Elizabeth and Julia who are now in school.

Both Dr Alvin and Dr Alexander Wallingfords are Mason and members of the Prespyterian Church.
Father and son have always maintained the most devoted relations and hold all their property jointly. They conduct the operation of their land togather, and live togather in an attractive home, built by Dr Alvin Wallingford. They allso occupy the same office, and both enjoy the same high reguard in the community in which has so long been located all that they hold most dear.

Dr Alvin M Wallingford.

Letter from Dr Alexander M Wallingford- Flemingsburg Ky- June 11- 1923

To Dr Charles C Wallingsford- Ogallala Nebr.

In looking over our New Physicians Directory-I see your name and as there have been so few Physicians of the name-I have decided to write you a letter and ask something in reguard of your family.
I am anxious for you to write me and tell me of your self, father and grand father, for I am satisfied that one or the other came from this part of the country.

There were four brothers who came to Kentucky from Virginia about the year 1797 and landed at what is now Maysville, but then called Limestone. Their names were Joseph, Mark- Richard and Nicholas. They settled 12 miles ~~north~~ south of Limestone at a little place called Mt Gilead in Mason Co. Nicholas was my great grand father and was the father of 21 children by two wives, and the other brothers had large families.
My father Dr Alvin M Wallingford- now 82 is liveing as is my mother. As I am an only child, we have Practiced togather and lived in the same house. I have two grown daughters both single.

Dr Alexander M Wallingford.

Nancy Willett who married her cousin Richard Willett was Prudance Wallingfords sister and my grandmother.
The father of Prudance was Charled Willett.
Charles Willett brought with him a family of 14 children and we all start fron his family. The Wallingfords and Willetts came in company to Kentucky and all are more or less related. The Applegates and Becketts came with them, we might say all kin people.
Now when we get the year that Charles Willett moved to Kentucky, we will get the precise date of the Wallingfords landing in Kentucky.

The old home place of John Wallingford still stands and in a good state of preservation. The brick were burned on the land and said to be the first brick house in Fleming Co Ky.

Sent by his wife- Georgia- following his death.

Dr James Stuart Wallingford, Physician and Surgeon, has Practiced in Paris, Kentucky for more than a quarter of a century, and the general confidence in which he was held in the community testified eloquenty to his skill. Wallingford Family Meets In Lexington To Organize Into A National Society

Flemingsburg, Ky., Thursday, June 26, 1941—A meeting for the purpose of organizing the Wallingsfords and Wallingfords of the United States and Canada into a National society was opened Monday at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington, Ky., with approximately 50 members of the two related families in attendance.

At the morning session, national officers for the new association were elected. Charles H. Murrow, attorney of Des Moines, Iowa, was elected president, and Dr. Charles C. Wallingsford, Hynes, California was named secretary-treasurer. Serving on the nominating committee were Dr. W. H. Wallingford, of Princeton, W. Va., Mrs. Otto R. Shiver, of Springfield, O., and Miss Sara Wallingford Glascock of Flemingsburg, Ky.

Presiding at the meetings was Mrs. Eugene Van Deren (Myra Wallingford), of Cynthiana, Ky., who is chairman for area 5, composed of Kentucky, West Virginia and Tennessee. Acting as secretary pro tem was Miss Hattie Hord, of Flemingsburg, Ky.

Area chairmen for the twelve areas into which the association has divided North America were also elected at the morning meeting. A constitution with by-laws had been drawn up and will be excepted by the members. The constitution provides for national meetings every fourth year, and Area meetings every two years. However, such was the interest manifested that it was decided to make plans for another national gathering to be held next year in a western city.

Luncheon took place in the Thoroughbred room of the Phoenix hotel, with 43 persons present. In the afternoon, members of the families formed a motorcade to visit stock farms of Central Kentucky.

On Tuesday descendants from out of the state joined with those from this section in a tour of Flemingsburg, Mt. Carmel, Mt. Gilead and Maysville.

Fleming county's historic courthouse, planned and built by James Eckels and Samuel Stockwell and completed in the year 1829, provided an appropriate meeting place for Tuesday's get-together. Luncheon was served to about 25 members at the Fleming hotel.

Among those who registered Monday were Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Wallingsford of Hynes, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Otto R. Shivers, of Springfield, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dean Wallingford and daughter, of Peebles O.; Dr. William H. Wallingford, Miss Alice Wallingford and Miss Marvina Wallingford, of Princeton, W. Va.; Miss Dorothy Sowards, of Bellflower, Ill.; Miss Nellie Hord, of Boston, Mass.; Miss Kate Warder, of Jeffersonville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hambrick and daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth, Miss Nancy Wallingford, Mr. George Summers Wallingford, all of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Van Deren and Mrs. Godbey, of Cynthiana, Mr. and Mrs. William Prather, of Fayette county; Mrs. Raymond Lickert, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lathram, Mrs. Elmer Foster, Mrs. Mary Alice Jones, Mrs. Louis Stockton Bowers, Mrs. Louis Eugene Crain, Mrs. Forrest Lee McKee, Mrs. W. T. Crain, Miss Elizabeth O. Wallingford, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Jones, Miss Hattie Hord, Miss Sara W. Glascock, Miss Betty Bower, Miss Lynda Lee McKee, Mr. George Nelson Foxworthy, Mr. Elmer Patterson Foster and Mrs. Robert William (Bobby) Crain, all of Flemingsburg; Mrs. Harry Glascock, Mrs. Belle W. Faris, Mrs. Ella Wallingford, Mrs. Lillie Mae Roberts, Miss Faith Wallingford, Mr. Samuel T. Foxworthy and Mr. Hargis H. Foxworthy, of Fleming county.

Going to Lexington Monday night were Mrs. Miles Hurst, of Huntington, W. Va., and Mrs. Thomas E. Rice, of Fleming county.

Additional members attending Tuesday's session included Mrs. George Wallingsford, Mrs. Bert C. Grigsby, Mrs. Charles E. Rhodes, Miss Caroline Phillips, Miss Pearl Wallingford, Miss Rosanna Rice, Miss Ruth Rice, Miss Ann Stockton Bower, Miss Rosella Wallingford, Judge Harry Wallingford, Mr. William Wallingford, and Mr. Thomas E. Rice of Flemingsburg and Fleming county, and Miss Carol Anne Hurst, of Huntington, W. Va.

It is interesting to note that the Wallingford family name is derived from the town of Wallingford, England, which is located 46 miles southwest of London and is known to have existed more than a thousand years ago.

Nicholas Wallingford I was the first member of the family to touch American soil. As a lad of 19 years, he sailed from Southampton, England, and reached Boston, Mass., on April 24, 1638. Sixteen years later he was married to Sarah Travis of Irish descent, and they were the parents of 13 children.

Their grandson, Benjamin Franklin Wallingford, married Prudence Elliott. They resided for a time in Culpepper county, Virginia, later removing to Limestone (afterwards called Maysville, Mason county, Ky.) on the Ohio river in 1775. They were the parents of 7 children. From these are descended the Kentucky Wallingfords.

The plan of having a family history was conceived by Mr. Murrow more than thirty years ago. Collaborating with him was Judge John D. Wallingsford, of Des Moines, who made several trips to Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana to collect data. However, in August of 1922, Judge Wallingford was appointed to a federal judgeship at Ancon, Canal Zone, South America, and two years later died there suddenly of a heart attack. The work was later continued by Mr. Murrow and Dr. C. C. Wallingsford, and in time they hope to publish a comprehensive Wallingford Family History.

Mrs. Ella Wallingford, of Nepton, mother of Mrs. Harry Wallingford who is judge of Fleming county, had the distinction of being the eldest person present at the meetings this week, and little Ann Stockton Bower, younger daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. Louis Stockton Bower of this city was the youngest member in attendance. —S. Mount Wallingford is very near in the center of the town. The name Mount Wallingford, was given it because of one of the original owners, Col Thomas Wallingford of Dover, who owned a tract of land which included it. It has two crests, the west one is 23 feet the higher. Its view is the most extensive of any in Weare. Aside from the numerous mountain peaks, a view of two cities-seven villages are clearly seen from its crest.

The view from Mount Wallingford, is as broad and grand as that from any other mountain of equal hight within the state.

Col Thomas Wallingford, of Somersworth was one of the wealthiest men in New Hampshire. He lived near Salmon Falls, between that place and the old Somersworth meeting-house on the road to Dover, N.H. Capt Samuel Wallingford, son of Col Thomas and Elizabeth(Sweet) Wallingford-I- , was a Lieutenant in Capt Moses Yeatons Company, in 1775 and Captain in Colonel Stephen Evans, regiment, Dec 17- 1776. He allso served with Distinction as Lieut of Marines under the celebrated John Paul Jones. He aided in the capture of the British brig George, and was killed in the battle between the "Ranger" and the "Drake"- April 24- 1778.

This engagment was one of the most dareing actions of that renowned naval commander. It took place off Belfast Ireland. Jones had been cruising on that coast, and by his many bold enterprises had struck terror into the minds of the people of that neighberhood. To stop his marauding the sloop of war Drake, of 21 guns, was prepared for sea, on board of which a large number of volunteess entered as for a holiday expedition makeing her crew 160 men, so determined were they to get rid of the pest. On the morning of April 24(1778) Jones ship the Ranger, of 18 guns was off the harbor, and the Drake immediately proceeded to get under way and came slowly out to sea. The Ranger ran down toward her, and hauling up her course, lay to, awaiting her arrival. On her comeing up, Jones sheered across her bow- and poured into her the first broadside. The engagment was mainetained with great energy and obstinacy at close quarters for more than an hour, when the Capt of the Drake received a musket ball in the head, his crew called for quarters, and the action ceased. The Captain and Lieut of the Drake, died of their wounds and 42 of her crew were killed. The loss on board the Ranger was the brave and noble Lieut Wallingford, and one seaman killed and six wounded.

Buerial of Speaker Nicholas Longworth- Cincinnati- Ohio.

Speaker Nicholas Longworth was bueried today in Spring Grove Cemetry, the last resting place of his forebears.
No words of eulogy were spoken, as the simple ritual of the Episcopal Church was read. A silent tribute was paid him by men in whose high circles he moved and by towns people who revered him. President Hoover, came with an offical party, togather with a large delegation of Congress, where Mr Longworth served for more than twenty years.

Men and woman high in public life and affairs called at the Rockwood estate of the Longworths this morning to extend their sympathy to the widow, Mrs Alice Rosevelt Longworth. The body arrived here this morning by special train, from Aiken, So Carolina, where Mr Longworth died of pneumonia, two days ago.
Pauline, the six year old daughter of the Longworths, learned for the first time of the death of her father, when they brought him home today.

The active pall bearers were Buckner A Wallingford -II- his three ~~two~~ sons Buckner A-III, Nicholas and Landon, and Kermit and Archie Rosevelt, brothers of Mrs Longworth. There were fifty honary pall bearers. At 3 P.M. the body was laid to rest beside that of his father and grand father in the plot in Spring Grove Cemetry.

An especially tragic note was added to the citys history in the passing of Nicholas Longworth, as he was the last male scion bearing the name, which has been a factor in the citys history since 1804, when the first Nicholas Longworth, his grand father father came from New Jersey to Cincinnati.

Buckner A Wallingford-II- married Nannie Longworth, as sister of Nicholas Longworth-III- the above.
She is a daughter of Nicholas Longworth-II- and Susan Walker.

The following is an extract from an article by Val C Giles of Austin, published in the Galveston News of Sunday Aug 10- 1902- The writer was inspired by a visit to Bryan, dureing the reunion of Hoods Brigade- June 27-1902.

I crossed over the river(Brazos) and was sidetracked at Lewis, a lonely little station at the crossing of the International and Great Northern railroad. Here I was forced to remain for ten long hours in the middle of a 3000 acre plantation, twenty two miles north of Bryan. I finally reached Bryan and had a glorious time with my old comrades in a land overflowing with Southern hospitality, and I am sorry to learn that it overflowed with water.

Forty years is a big slice of a mans three score and ten- two-thirds of the way. A majority of my old comrades I met at Bryan on the 27th and 28th of last June have passed the 60th mile post. A few of us are staggering a little in the rear, but the milepost marked 60 is in sight. As I sat in the opera house in Bryan and looked over the gray assembly of old men it was hard for me to realize the fact that they were companions of my youth, the gray rollicking boys I marched with, fought with, went courting with and foraged with back in the sixties. There were no spring chickens in that aggregation of gray beards and bald heads and there is no flint left in the old brigade. The dandy of 1860, with his high heeled pumped soled boots and broadcloth dress suit, in many instances was the soldier of '61 to'65, but Old Time has knocked the starch out of youth and the vanity of the young manhood out of him, and years have whitened his locks and marred his once handsome face.

I had not seen Thomas G Wallingford for many years until I met him at Bryan. I knew him the moment I glanced at him. Then I remembered the Chickahominy swamps and a remark he made to me more than 40 years ago."You Company B fellow down there, why the devil dont you climb a tree? No orders agains that." But I will speak of that incident later on.

As I stood in the gloomy solitude of the Chickahominy swamps that night, I spied the biggest ghost I had ever seen before. I saw it rise up out of the sluggish marsh, not larger than a two month calf, but the thing gradualy grew larger,broader, taller and whiter until it looked to be as large as a boxcar and as high as a telephone pole. It was an expansion ghost, simular I supose to the one recently found in the Phillippine Islans. It lit up the dismal surroundings by a soft, pale light; it grew brighter for a few seconds, then rose slowly from the ground and dissapeared in the thick foliage of the trees. It was a very decent sort of a ghost. It never said a word, just flared up, waved a little then vanished. It was not long before I saw more of these haunts, floating around in the woods, and I felt relieved when the idea dawned on me that it was only a phosphoretic light ariseing from the ~~ground~~ noxious effluva of the slimy swamp. And white there was a profound stilness, a distressing silence, and with these fantastic shadows whizing all around me, I stood perfectly still until I got so tired, that I began to grapple around for a log or stump to sit on.

I was makeing some noise wadeing about in the dark whe I heard a voie of my next post commander call out and say" You Company B fellow down there, why the devil dont you climb a tree- No orders against that" I soon found a bent over pine and anchored on it, my feet dangling in the water. It afforded me a place to rest, and I was thankful for that. The advice to climb a tree came from Tom G Wallingford, a member of Company G, of my Regiment, and a man whom I did not know at the time. "Climb a Tree" was our introduction

Later we were often thrown togather and I learned to admire the man. In those days he was a strong vigerous man of about 30 yrs of age, and never missed a battle nor shirked a duty.

It had been many years since I last saw him, but when I looked at his benevolent old whiz, at Bryan, I recalled scenes of long ago. Wallingford has been a remarkable man, and those who see him today in the walks of civil life will never dream of the thrilling scenes through which he has passed. I doubt if there was another private soldier in the army of Northern Virginia, who saw more of the Civil War than he did. He is marked "present" at every battle in which the Forth Texas Regiment was engaged from Eltmans Landing down to Attomatix. It was Wallingfords fortune or misfortune to be on hand when and where little things occured as well as big ones. He saw more and heard more than any man in the Regiment.

By accident he was present Sunday morning Sept 21,1863 and heard a part of the quarrel between General Bragg and General Longstreet at Chickama uga. He did not hear it all, but he caught General Longstreets parting words as he rode off from General Bragg which were" Damed if you can cashier me. I dont belong to your army"

At the Battle of the Wilderness, he was within a few feet of General Lee, when he rode up and proposed to lead the Texas Brigade. He heard General Laworance cry out to General Lee- go back General Lee- go back, we have whipped them once before, and dam em we can whip them again. As General Lee turned to ride back,Lawerance kicked poor old Travler in the side saying"Get out of the Wilderness with General Lee, you old looney"

Tom G Wallingford, lives now at Fields Store, Waller Co Texas and carries his seventy odd years wonderfully well.

The Blue family of America, were among the earlies settlers of Hampshire Co Virginia, if not the very earliest. Three brothers, John, Uriah and Michael came from Holland. Uriah and Michael, made their homes near Shepardstown, while John settled about five miles north of the present town of Romney and became the founder of the Blue family in Hampshire Co.

They came from Holland to New Jersey and from there to Virginia, early in the 17th century. They were therefore among the earlies pioneers of the Western Continent, and through all the generations they have been influental citizens. The family so far as the history can be traced in Holland were in affluent circumstances.

The date of John Blues coming to Hampshire Co Va, is partly by tradition and partly by family records. His son John was 12 years old when he came with his father-John-II- died in 1791 age 78 yrs old, so he was born in 1713 and came to Hampshire Co about 1725.

The John who died in 1791, left his property to his wife and 13 children.

BUCKNERS OF VIRGINIA. Pages 243-245.

Captain John Ashby, son of Thomas Ashby, was born in 1707, in the present Fauquier County (Va.). At an early age he developed a love for adventure, and crossing the Blue Ridge Mountains, through Ashby's Gap, which was named for him, located on the Shenandoah River, near Millwood, Clark County. He was a Captain in the 2nd Virginia Rangers, and from 1752 to 1754, commanded Fort Ashby, at the junction of Patterson's Creek and the Potomac. At this period Colonel George Washington was in command of the Colonial Militia, and in his diary and letters to the Governor of Virginia, frequent references are made in regard to the military services of Captain John Ashby.

Captain John Ashby died in 1797, at the advanced age of 90 years, and was buried at Winchester. He was well fitted physically for the life of a frontiersman, being tall, erect, with eagle eyes and wonderful powers of endurance. It is said of him that he knew not the sensation of fear nor pain.

He was a staunch Episcopalian, and for years was a vestryman in the "Old Chapel", the first Episcopal Church founded in the Valley of Virginia, one of his fellow vestrymen being Lord Fairfax.

His grandfather was Martin M Wallingford

Letter from DR O.M.Layton- Fon duLac Wis- March 21- 1936.

My grandfather James Layton was born somewhere in Maryland March 20- 1783. His wife- Mary Wallingford was born Dec 4- 1783. These are tombstone records from the Layton-Wallingford cemetry near Maysville Ky. They must have married about 1806, since my father was born Sept 10- 1807.

It must be remembered that up to 1780, Kentucky, was Kentucky Co- Virginia. From that date until its admission in the Union in 1792 it lost its name and consisted of Virginia counties known as Fayett, Lincoln and Jefferson.

Whether James and Mary were married in Kentucky or Maryland I am unable to say, but believe they were married in Maryland for the following reason: I have a solid silver tablespoon- a part of their wedding silver evidently-engraved- James and Mary Layton, made by Villard of Baltimore Md. It is therefore more than likely that they were married in Maryland, perhaps near Baltimore and then went west, probably direct to Maysville Ky.

James Layton had a sister who married Wallingford and they had one son. After the mothers death this son William Wallingford who was reared by Perry S Layton. This William Wallingford lived for many years in Cincinnati, Ohio. He married there and had two children, both of whom are married and live in New York City. The above dates were taken from grave markers in Mill Creek Cemetry where the Layton and Wallingford lots lie side by side.

Letter from above- 4-22-35.

Now as to William Wallingford, in addition to information previously given.

James Wallingford, a neighbor of James Layton, liveing at Mills Creek, near Maysville Ky, married the laters daughter, Margret Layton about 1830. They had one son, William Wallingford, who after the death of his parents, made his home with Dr Perry S Layton of Concord, Kyp- about 20 miles from Maysville Ky. William Wallingford removed to Cincinnati Ohio, married Miss Nancy Brammel and they had two children, George and Lulu, both of whom are married and live in New York City- street adresses unknown.

I have your letter with referance to Wallingford or Wallingsford. I dont think there can be any question that the name is a place name, and was derived from the Town of Wallingford in Berkshire, near London. A large proportion of English surnames, in fact, are either locative or occupational in their origin.

Sirnames, as we now understand them, did not come into common use till the 15th and 16th centuries. Previously to that period, the font or Christian.was the only true name, and surnames as such were unknown.

So far as I can ascertain, there exists no Family History of the Wallingfords or Wallingsfords. None has certainly been published in this country. The name is not common in either form here, and to compile a list of all persons bearing it would entail a search of the many hundreds of local Directories.

The Wallingford Coat of Arms to which you refer can be obtained for about Three guineas($15.oo) The lineage of the family to which the Grant was made, and who alone are entitled to bear the Arms is a matter for research.

I shall be pleased to place my services at your disposal for the purpose of ascertaining, as far as records will show,the ancestry of Nicholas Wallingford whose place of origin, you think was the County of Hampshire, the lineage of the Grantee of the Coat of Arms, and all such other data as may be of assistance to you in compileing the History of the Family, previously to the time of the migration of Nicholas Wallingford to America for a fee of Ten guineas(50.oo) In the event of you agreeing, it would faciliate the necessary researches if you would kindly quote the authority(I) the date when Nicholas Wallingford sailed from Southampton,(2) his suposed place of birth in or near Southampton, and (3) the name of his mother.

Letter from "College of Arms" Queen Victoria St-London E.C.# 4
29 May- 1935.

To enable me to tell you when and to whom the Wallingford Coat of Arms, which you enclosed, were granted, it would be necessary to make a search in the records of the College. The Office fee for this search is One pound($5.00) which amount I ask you to forward to me. This fee allso covers the search for any pedigree of the surname. The cost of a proper painting of the Arms- the one you sent is not very well done- would be 2 pounds- ($10.oo)

I gather from you that no previous searches have been made in this country with the object of establishing the parentage and ancestry of the first Nicholas Wallingford of Massachusetts. You have however an obvious/ clue which should be followed up, and I think an expenditure of 20 to 25 pounds- (100 to $125.oo) would enable the genealogy to be traced back for at least three generations.
